Total

If you are claiming medical expenses on your tax return please fill out this form. Once it has been fillied in we don't need copies of your receipts, but you must keep them for 7 years in case CRA asks to see them. You don't have to put in every invoice individually. You can put the total per person for dental, prescriptions, chiropractic etc listed on their own line. See example below. Any amounts that have been reimbursed to you must be included in the chart above.

To see what medical expenses are eligible you can see the list of Authorized Medical Practitioners on our forms page.
