April 1, 2018 Easter Sunday

Today we reach the high point of the Christian year: Easter Sunday. Christ is risen! Jesus' mission is complete. Just as Jesus had promised would happen, God raised him up on the third day. Jesus has redeemed us and has given us the hope of eternal life. Today we will renew our baptismal promises, rejecting sin and acknowledging the acceptance of our faith. Let us die to sin so that we can live in new life.

Today we listen to leaders in the early church as they bear witness to what they saw and what they realized after Jesus rose from the dead. Peter testifies to Jesus' life, death, and resurrection, while Paul advises his audience how to live differently now that Christ is risen. In the Gospel, John tells us of the beloved disciple who, even before he completely understood, saw the empty tomb and the discarded burial cloths and believed.

Three different people approach the empty tomb in John's account, and all three react differently. Mary Magdalene was afraid and upset, believing robbers had broken in. Peter, the first to enter the empty tomb, was observant, but confused. John, the disciple whom Jesus loved, saw and believed. In the verses that follow in John's Gospel, Jesus appears to a distraught Mary Magdalene just outside the tomb and she believes. Later he also appears to Peter, as well as the rest of the disciples, and asks Peter to "tend my sheep" (John 21:16). Each comes to faith in the risen Jesus at different times and by different means.

Today we will stand before God and each other and renew our baptismal promises. By our baptism, we are united with Christ and share in the common priesthood of all who believe. In the first reading, we hear Peter telling members of the early church that they have been commissioned to preach and to testify in Jesus' name. By extension, we are also called to do this. This is our responsibility as members of the Body of Christ. We can and shall bear witness in word and in deed that all who believe will receive forgiveness of sins.
