To whom it may concern,

Safety in a Second

I confirm that I have dealt with Safety in a Second for the past two months, during which time they have provided my jobsite with excellent support in the areas of product engineering, delivery and set up. The labour required to install their guardrail system is a fraction of what we would normally expect. Their system is easily relocated or modified in minutes to suit changing site conditions.

I would not hesitate to recommend Safety in a Second's as a solid supplier of a reliable guardrail system.

Yours truly,
