

Stickman No. 16 (Domino) Puzzlebox

Reproduction by Neil Hutchison

These reproductions of the Stickman No. 16 (Domino) Puzzlebox by Neil Hutchison are exceptional and exquisite. Although they may lack the carved decorative details of the originals, I think they actually surpass my own design in overall tolerance and quality. I am quite impressed.

I provided Neil with the templates used for the original instructions, so each of these reproductions also comes with its own reproduction of the original instruction book.

Unfortunately, by the time I managed to post this puzzle as available, I learned that all of Neil's reproduction copies had already sold out. It seems that even Stickman reproductions sell out instantly. I am, however, leaving this insert here in the hopes that he gets around to crafting some additional ones.

Neil went to great lengths to document every step of remaking these puzzles, and it is rare to get a glimpse into the extensive process and effort of producing a puzzle run. It is my hope that everyone will click on the provided "Profile of Reproduction" link to appreciate the amount of effort that goes into making such creations. Clicking on the "Profile of Original" link will also give a comparison to the original design.

If Neil later produces additional copies, this link will be replaced with a "contact craftsman" link to allow for purchasing.
