

Jeff Wilson is a retired accountant whose professional career was largely spent in Maryland hospitals. He holds degrees in Music Education, Accounting, and a Master of Business Administration. He is also a CPA.

In addition to his accounting career, he has taught high school music, and served briefly in the Peace Corps. He is a founding member of the Multifaith Alliance of Climate Stewards, a faith-based Frederick County education and advocacy group.