

STARTED THINKING

Lyric Sheet

Started thinking, we're all gone,
Started drinking to forget this song,
Started wondering, where I've been,
Every time I see what state I'm in

But now you can set her party and, oh, my, my,
And I might sit here calling it all in, my, my, my ,my,
So I might call her why

Started wondering, where you've gone,
Everyone's so relaxed and body strong,
Started thinking, that you knew,
Everybody comes running back to you

But now I've come to see the world in all its glory,
And all my money's down, I can now worry,
And I might share a soul

Started thinking, when's the time,
Give me something to put some peace of mind inside of me,
Started thinking, we're all gone,
Forget this drinking and keep on remembering this song.
