"For who is greater: the one seated at table or the one who serves?

Is it not the one seated at table? I am among you as the one who serves."

Palm Sunday begins Holy Week and the readings speak to us of the exaltation of Jesus, but we know where this week leads. Exaltation is fleeting as we look to the events of the Triduum. We know this parade with palms does not reflect the focus of Jesus' ministry. Over and over we read about how Jesus serves all in his path, especially those who normally went unnoticed or were shunned. At the last supper we note that Jesus gives of himself, letting his disciples know that he is giving his body and blood to them. Even unto his death, Jesus is about giving of himself, giving no matter the cost. Reflection: How can I serve as Jesus did this week? How can I give of myself, give of my time and not count the cost, in memory of all I have been given?
