

Georgia

Minimum wage = $7.25 per hour or $15,080 annually.

The mom does not qualify for Medicaid, but the children do (estimated at $3,389 each).

Georgia does not provide a match to the federal Earned Income Tax Credit.

CHART 1: GEORGIA

Single Mother with Two Children Earning Minimum Wage for Full Year, Receiving Basic Cash, Food, and Medical Benefits in Georgia

NOTES: 2017 data using minimum wage of $7.25. The children are school-age, and mom's employer does not provide health insurance.

SOURCES: Author's calculations using data from the U.S. Department of Labor, IRS, Georgia Department of Revenue, FNS, and CMS.

CHART 2: GEORGIA

Single Mother with Two Children Earning Minimum Wage for Full Year, Receiving Basic Cash, Food, Medical, and Housing Benefits in Georgia

NOTES: 2017 data using minimum wage of $7.25. The children are school-age, and mom's employer does not provide health insurance.

SOURCES: Author's calculations using data from U.S. Department of Labor, IRS, Georgia Department of Revenue, FNS, CMS, and HUD.