

May 12, 2014 (Costa Mesa, California) –

Thomas will be motivating riders for the second year in a row on June 22, 2014 from 1 - 4pm in Costa Mesa, California at the 5th annual YAS-A-THON benefiting ThinkCure!

Thomas R. Williams is a professional speaker who travels around the world inspiring and motivating individuals, organizations, and companies. His audiences have included Fortune 500 Corporations, U.S. Military, Colleges, High Schools as well as groups from specialized fields.

He has found that his interactive presentations and energetic style is the most effective way to spread his knowledge, leadership and passion.

Thomas has mastered teamwork, overcoming adversity, goal setting, dream chasing and transition.

Throughout his years in the NFL, Thomas recognized that competing with some of the top teams in the league allowed him to fully comprehend the importance of accountability.

Mr. Williams graduated from the University of Southern California in 2008 with a degree in Sociology, and retired from 5 seasons in the NFL in 2012 after suffering a career ending neck injury. At 29 years of age, the goal of Thomas R. Williams, Inc. is to inspire, and give back by sharing personal stories and delivering the message for any organization.

For more information or to connect with Thomas R. Williams via social media please visit:

www.thomasrwilliams.com