

Painting Classes with Elizabeth Boles

SPX Camps is very excited to announce that Elizabeth Boles
will be offering Painting Classes
for K - 8th Grade Students this Fall!

FALL PAINTING CLASSES – SPX Camps is excited to offer you a chance to work with a professional artist to “brush up” on your painting technique! Whether you’re a beginner or an old pro, Ms. Boles will teach you the skills necessary to create a beautiful 16x20 wrapped canvas to hang in your home. Students will also create a smaller canvas painting towards the end of the session if time allows. This session’s painting will feature a snowman, created in detail and embellished over the course of the session. Not only will you leave with beautiful masterpieces to display, you’ll feel a sense of pride knowing that you are the one who created them! Classes will be held over a 6 week period in the Art Room. Students will head down for classes at the 3:10 PM dismissal bell, eat a snack, gather supplies, and begin painting. Classes are approximately 90 minutes. Space is limited to 15 campers, so be sure to sign up today!

Ms. Elizabeth Boles was a Fine Arts major at Western Carolina University and has been teaching art for the past 20 years. She currently teaches art classes at Rockingham Community College, Well Spring Retirement Community, and Brookdale Retirement Community. She serves as President for the Fine Arts Festival Association and is a representative for Grumbacher Art Supply Company. She currently has a piece displayed in the Madame Hancock exhibit at the MARC. She has painted over 50 murals and has been featured in books, magazines, and newspapers as well as a guest on local radio and TV shows. She was awarded the 2009 Grant for Artist Residency at Vermont Studio Center for the Arts and has won various awards in art shows and juried shows across the region. She has also had several of her art works copyrighted. Ms. Boles takes pride in teaching young artists proper technique and enjoys seeing their love for art soar! Several of her art students travel far and wide to take her classes, as she has a genuine knack for teaching. She has taught art to students from ages 3 to 96 and enjoys every minute! In her free time, she loves to travel, paint, sketch, and create murals in her home. She is very excited about bringing her love of painting to Saint Pius and looks forward to meeting some of SPX’s budding artists!
