Know Your Neighborhood

The best way to ensure we make rational decisions under pressure is to have existing answers. Knowing locations ahead of time, and having a visual reminder is how to ensure family comes together.

Draw a map and use symbols to show your home, school and meeting spot. Ensure all members know the locations.

Know Your Home Exit Points

It may seem redundant, but firmly anchoring the process for a procedure is to educate all family members on the reasons why. Educate all family members on the process and have the visual reminder.

Draw a floor plan to show the different exits for your home and designate the main exit.

CONTACT NUMBERS

Talk to your kids, make sure they know the numbers AND have a photo copy of this list in their back pack.
