June 12, 2016
Eleventh Sunday of Ordinary Time
Luke 7:36-8:3

“He said to her, ‘Your sins are forgiven . . .Your faith has saved you; go in peace.’”

The Pharisees fastidiously observed the dietary and cleanliness laws of Moses and wore garments that set them apart from other people. They considered themselves superior to others who did not act and dress like them, or who committed what they considered to be a sin. The Pharisee who hosted Jesus confronted him when a woman the Pharisee considered to be sinful, anointed Jesus with oil and wet his feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. Jesus does not call the Pharisee a sinner, but tells about a creditor who forgives two debtors, one who owed a large amount, one a small. He ask which would love the creditor more. The Pharisee squeamishly admits, “the one whose larger debt was forgiven.” It is tempting to be critical of the Pharisee. But, are we sometimes like the Pharisee? The difference between the woman and the Pharisee is that she demonstrated awareness and sorrow for her sins, and her faith in Jesus; he did not seem to be aware of his sinfulness or the need for forgiveness. Are we like the woman or the Pharisee?
