

KRISTY WILEY

Hello All!

My name is Kristy Wiley (formally Kercher) I am the daughter of Robert and Karen Kercher. My Nationality is Acoma, Navajo, German, Irish and English. I was born in Gallup, NM, and raised in Laguna Pueblo.

My parents took a job offer in Zuni, NM in 1997, where we transitioned and moved our family. I attended Zuni High School as a freshman and took my very first Natural Clay class and fell in love with art! I became a Natural potter just like my ancestors!

I had my work featured in the Heard Museum in Phoenix, AZ. I also received a scholarship from the Heard Museum in 2000 awarded to me for my work!

Fast forward to today, I am a mother, wife an entrepreneur and YAFL peewee football coach. I'm someone who is very passionate about making a difference in the world. I've gotten away from my Natural pottery making but still dabble with my creative gift and create different types of art.

~Kristy L. Wiley

Dare to..... DREAM BIG