ARCHERY EQUIPMENT

IF THE SHOT MUST COUNT, COUNT ON SHAKESPEARE—Who knows more about what should be expected of bows, arrows and related equipment than devoted archers? Who but such interested archers could be better qualified to initiate archery tackle developments, plan product improvements and consistently insist upon highest quality standards?

That's why Shakespeare's archery-wise personnel are constantly at work—in the field as well as in the factory—developing, improving, changing . . . adding, discarding, adapting, experimenting . . . all in their continuing effort to provide other archers with better tackle. In a sense, Shakespeare's archery people 'represent' the field of archery within the Company. This applies at the drawing board and workbench, as well as when bowstrings are drawn in private or public field work by skilled testers.

Shakespeare CASCADE

An engineering first! The Cascade has 2½" wide limbs — a full ½" wider than other hunting bows. This extra width distributes the stress over a wider area which, for the first time, allows a limb design of a bow 14" larger. This means more speed (up to 33⅓% faster) less stack and smoother draw than any other bow of this length. The Cascade is built of jet-age material with a black formica handle riser and special black fiberglass face and back. This 50" black beauty also has the new Shakespeare Hunter arrow rest and comes with the String Ease bow stringer, an "ABC's of Archery" booklet, and a subscription to Archery World magazine.

No. X29 — 50" (Right or left hand — LHX29). Each . . . $105.00

Weights—40 lbs. to 65 lbs.

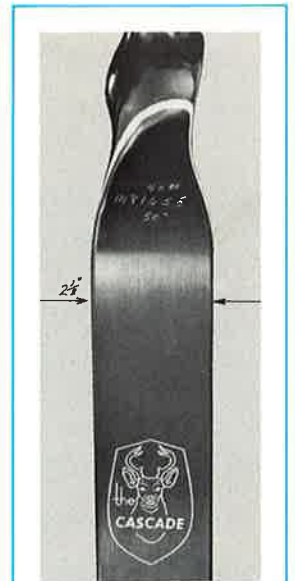

Limb Width—2½"

Arrow Rest—Hunter rest

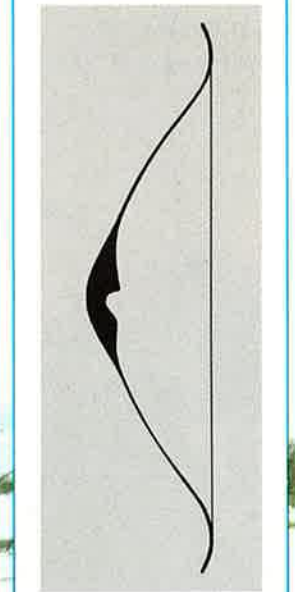

Sight Window—4½"

String Height—9"

For the adventurous outdoorsman who looks for a new target. Why not try for elk in Washington's magnificent Cascade country with the New and exciting Shakespeare Cascade bow.

We call this our Broad Bow, 2½ inches at its widest limb point. No other bow has this feature.

Shakespeare KAIBAB

Short, sweet — and power-packed . . . This is the 56" Kaibab, bold new weapon for the bow hunter and priced to make prestige ownership possible. The Kaibab was designed specifically for hunting, with duo-flex limbs which give it speed, yet provide a smooth even draw — with no stack. Handle is laminated of fine imported Seduha wood. Face and back are black glass. Nock overlay is benge and zebra in a three layer laminate. Perfectly stabilized. A field tester in the big buck country of Arizona tagged this bow with its name. Also included is an "ABC's of Archery" booklet, String Ease bow stringer and a subscription to Archery World magazine.

No. X27 — 56" (Right or left hand — LHX27). Each $84.50

Weights—40 lbs. to 60 lbs.

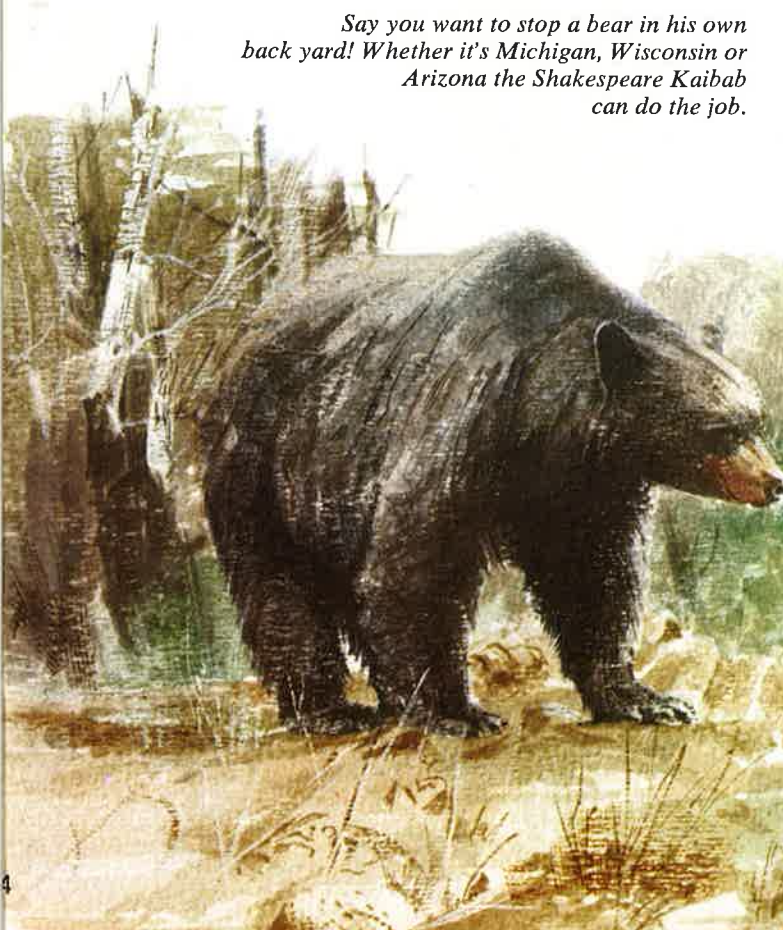

Limb Width—2"

Arrow Rest—Hunter rest

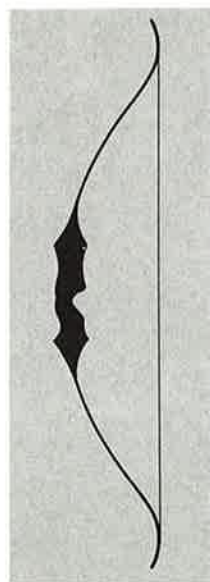

Sight Window—4"

String Height—8" from pivot point

Say you want to stop a bear in his own back yard! Whether it's Michigan, Wisconsin or Arizona the Shakespeare Kaibab can do the job.

Built in thumb rest for added shooting comfort.

Shakespeare OCALA

Named after the famed Florida bow hunting area. Ocala packs the potency to provide many a fine trophy. All purpose in design, extremely fast and stable, with precision balance. A nifty, compact "five-foot" for fast, easy handling in the brush or blind, as well as in the open field. Quality features include the finest laminated Seduha wood semi-pistol grip handle; outdoor blending olive green glass; and three ply nock overlay of benge and zebra. A great addition for the gun hunter who wants to e-x-t-e-n-d his season in the woods. Also included is an "ABC's of Archery" booklet, String Ease bow stringer and a subscription to Archery World magazine.

No. X17 — 60" (Right or left hand LHX17). Each $84.50

Weights—35 lbs. to 60 lbs.

Sight Window—5"

String Height—8" from pivot point

When you are enjoying a hunting trip in your favorite deer or bear country why not take a Shakespeare Ocala along as a companion, you'll love it.

Shakespeare SUPER NECEDAH

"There's nothing like the Necedah" echo the owners of our nifty No. X26 — and what a treat is in store for them when they see this surprise package in archery, Shakespeare's X30 Super Necedah. It's short (54"), fast (duo-flex design) and as power packed as any hunting bow ever produced. For its size the new X30 is unbelievably smooth, with a release that is pure pleasure. Our secret: the new Broad Bow limb, finished to perfection with glareless black glass. The shooting style handle, semi-pistol grip, is a triple laminate of decorative Seduha and Zebra woods; the three-ply nock overlay is also Seduha and Zebra wood. Also included is the String-Ease bow stringer. For super shooting, go the Super Necedah! Other added attractions enclosed are an "ABC's of Archery" booklet, String Ease bow stringer and the Archery World subscription.

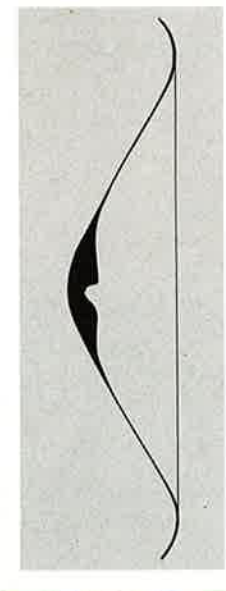

No. X30 — 54" (Right or (LHX30) left hand). Each $75.00

- Weights—35 lbs. to 60 lbs.
- Limb Width—2"
- Arrow Rest—Hunter rest
- Sight Window—3½"
- String Height—9" from pivot point

This is white tail country, woods, fields and cold streams. Where quiet fall days are many and deer are plentiful. The only companion you need is a Shakespeare Super Necedah.

Notice the beautifully designed nock overlay on the laminated bows.

Shakespeare NECEDAH

No. X26—Wherever there's bow hunting—they know Necedah! Handsome! Fittingly named NECEDAH, to commemorate that famed Wisconsin bow-hunting spot. Designed explicitly for demanding shooters who know what they want — and now further refined with even more quality and performance. The 58" Necedah is light, fast, and short enough to handle well in a blind or out of a tree. Outstanding features: semi-pistol grip, contoured thumb rest and Seduha riser, nock overlay also Seduha. Cinnamon color glass face and back blend with the out-of-doors. Give it a try. Also included is an "ABC's of Archery" booklet, String Ease bow stringer and a subscription to Archery World magazine.

No. X26 — 58" (Right or left (LHX26) hand). Each $67.50

- Weights—35 lbs. to 55 lbs.
- Limb Width—1¾"
- Arrow Rest—Hunter rest
- Sight Window—4½"
- String Height—7¾" from pivot point

The "Hunter" arrow rest was designed to give you maximum accuracy.

Shakespeare TIOGA

This is the Shakespeare 60" TIOGA, designed especially for dual duty (hunting and/or target use). But for the hunter who prefers the gentle smoothness that is part and parcel of longer bow design, here's a model for hunting with all the earmarks of the bow type; full working recurved limbs, and the flat-shot trajectory needed for casting heavier hunting arrows. Colorful handle is laminated of exotic Imbuaya, as are the nock overlays. Has shock-absorbing all new Hunter rest and dacron bow string. A great field test shot in Pennsylvania's deer hills got this bow its name. The String-Ease bow stringer comes with the Tioga. Also included is an "ABC's of Archery" booklet, and the Archery World subscription.

*Big, beautiful and wary that's the wild turkey.
In his own bailiwick he's tough to down but with equipment you can depend on and a little practice he'll be yours.*

Notice the beautifully designed nock overlay on the laminated bows.

Shakespeare MANITOU

Here is the Shakespeare MANITOU, 58" bow named after a story book test area on North Manitou Island, in Lake Michigan, a whitetail paradise (and a source of top grade maple for Shakespeare bows). Sized so precisely between the power-packed hunter and the long limbed tournament-styled smoothie that the good archer will be truly amazed at its tremendous range for either hunting or target work. It's a marvel! Handsome too, with handle laminated of Island Maple, as are the nock overlays. The appointments are recognized quality. The new shock absorbing Hunter arrow rest, dacron string and the String-Ease bow stringer make it the top notcher in its price class. Look it over. Also included is an "ABC's of Archery" booklet and a subscription to Archery World magazine.

Shakespeare CUSTER

Originally designed as the best possible hunting bow for the price (a great shot in Custer National Park prompted its name) the well stabilized CUSTER is now headed for great success because of its all-round performance. Ideal for schools, camps and recreational programs. Shakespeare quality throughout — materials, construction, craftsmanship and appointments. Imported Imbuya handle with Woods Brown glass and a thumb rest and String-Ease bow stringer is also included. A truly spectacular bow...and an outstandingly good buy in its price range. Another added dividend is the "ABC's of Archery" booklet enclosed, and the Archery World subscription.

No. X22 — 62" (Right or left (LHX22) hand). Each. $43.50

Weights—25 lbs. to 40 lbs.

You're in big horn country where the air is fresh and crisp. It takes a lot of stalking to get within range of one of these prize trophies so don't lose that chance. When the shot must count, count on Shakespeare.

Shakespeare YUKON

The YUKON is an extra big value in Shakespeare's great new line of bows. It's a sturdy, economical, well-crafted, full working recurve model, fashioned for hunting (and named after Alaska's fine Yukon fare) as well as recreational pleasure. The Yukon is ruggedly built to take the strenuous beating of beginners in physical education classes, summer camps and recreation programs. For its size, it has surprising speed and stability, and handles with all the feel and ease of a high priced composite. Its appointments can be enumerated. Outstanding are the long wear Hunter rest, built in thumb rest, and a polished handle of Island Maple wood which is contoured for a palm-pressure fit. Face and back are Woods Brown. Also included is an "ABC's of Archery" booklet, a subscription to Archery World magazine and a String Ease bow stringer.

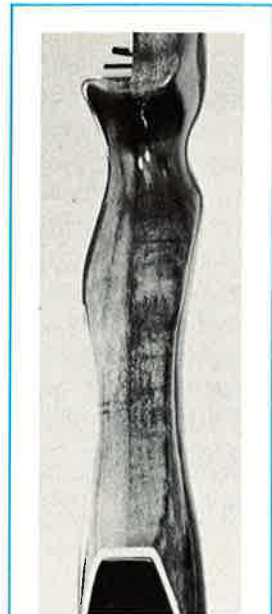

No. X24 — 60" (Right or left (LHX24) hand). Each. $32.50

Shakespeare PROFESSIONAL

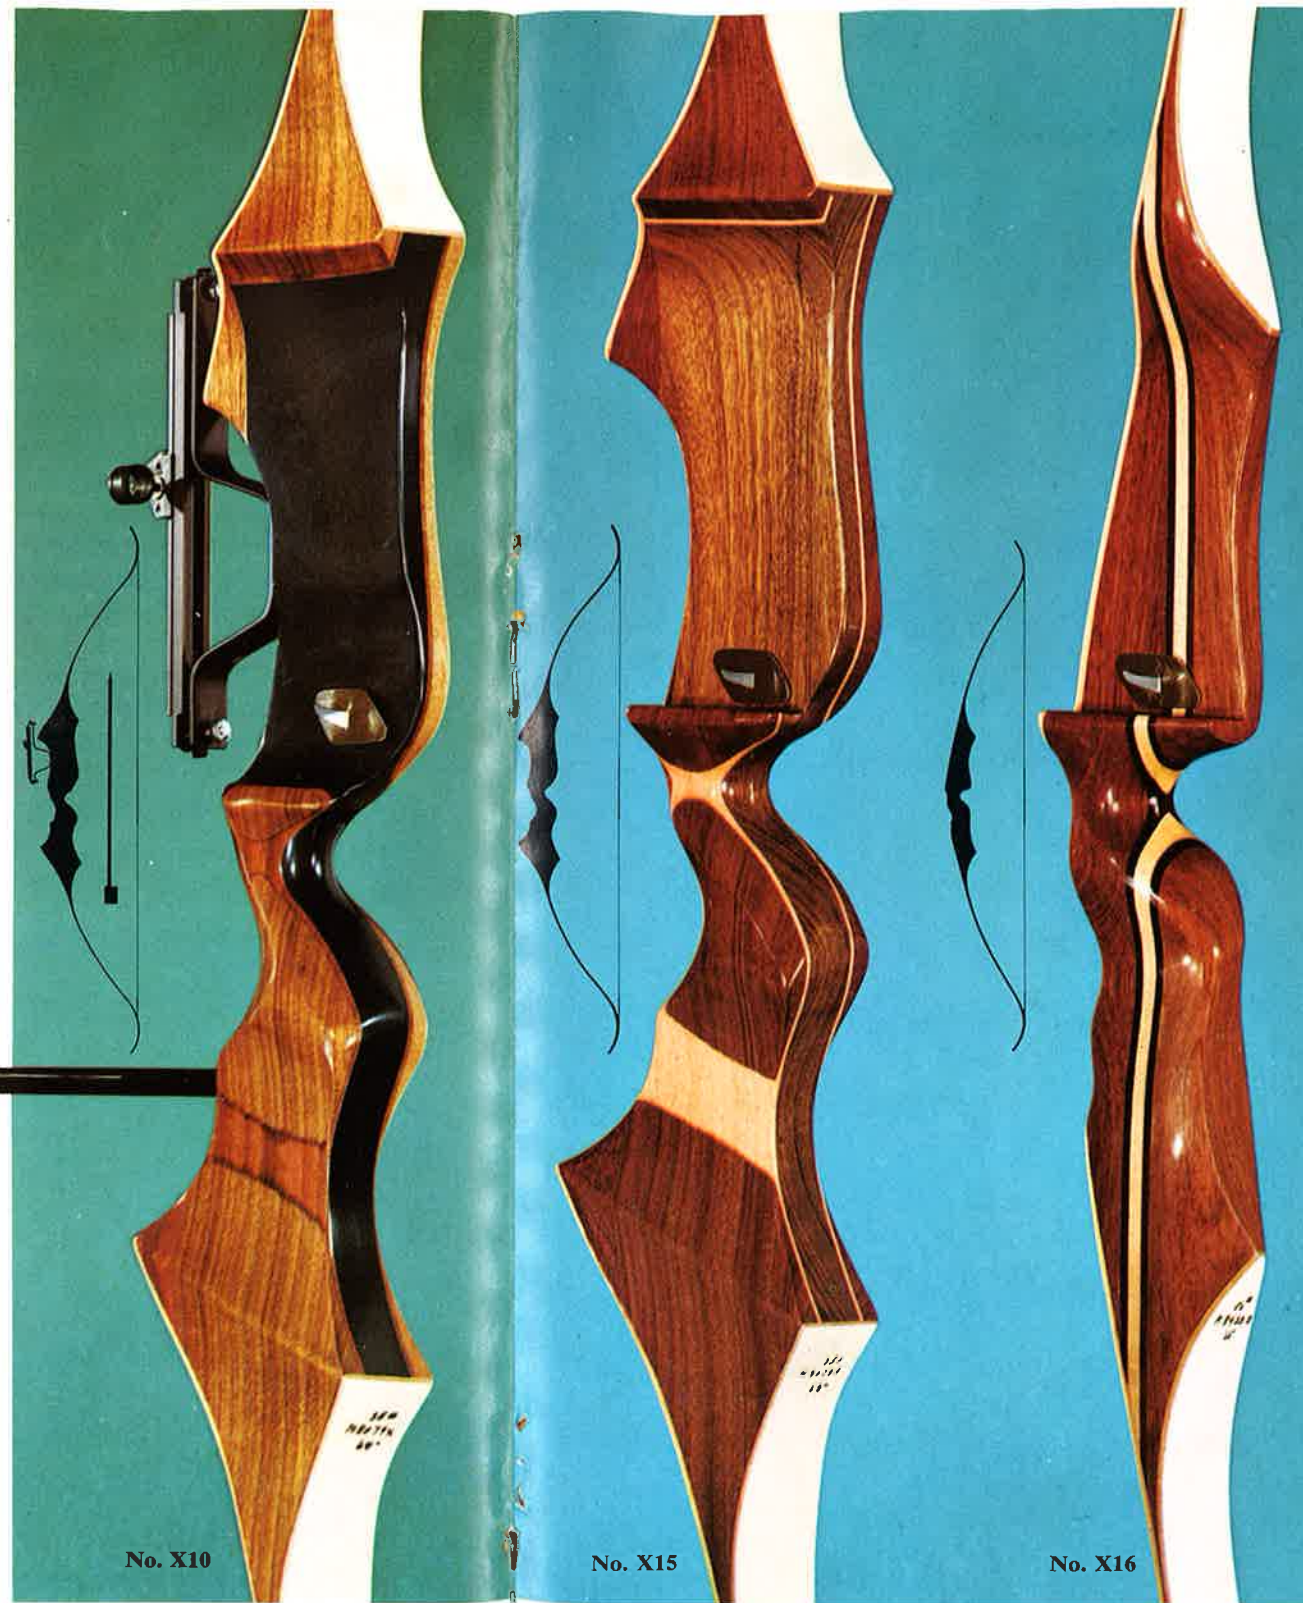

New model—with built-in bow sight extender and stabilizer

PROFESSIONALISM! It's here, totally and complete. Any shooter will know the instant he brings the "PRO" to draw that it's in a class by itself. What makes the Professional so different? It's pure perfection in every facet: Exquisite balance and weight distribution through precise stabilization: a curve softened grip (semi-pistol) that fits the hand so comfortably, for straight or broken-wrist shooting; the just-right 68" length, and velvety feel (from stage taper core laminations). The handle is art crafted, a triple laminate of Seduha and Bubinga with a center beam of formica. The glass color is pearl white: nock overlay is five-layer Rosewood and Maple. With pre-mounted pro site and sight extender, plus the Shakespeare adjustable stabilizer and adjustable arrow rest for individualized tuning; also included is the exclusive, lined pro bow case with a pocket for the stabilizer, a String Ease bow stringer and other miscellaneous accessories carried by archers. Also included is an "ABC's of Archery" booklet, and a subscription to Archery World magazine.

Shakespeare TITAN

New Model . . . with built-in stabilizer insert

Making the scene is the X15 — 68" TITAN, designed with "build" and muscle to cast arrow after arrow — on line — without bow fatigue or lessened efficiency. Just the ticket for the ambitious up-and-down shooter who is determined to move up a class — and needs the consistency that comes with confidence in his bow. Graceful, lithe and beautiful. Balanced scientifically — and stabilized — for the optimum in accuracy and speed. Its handle is a laminate of exotic Bubinga, Seduha and Island Maple. Glass color of face and back is Moon White. Four layers of Rosewood and Maple form the hand polished nock overlay. TITAN is equipped with pre-mounted stabilizer insert for No. M16 stabilizer. Also included is a padded bow case, String-Ease bow stringer, an "ABC's of Archery" booklet, and a subscription to Archery World magazine.

Shakespeare

There's no other arrow on the market like the Shakespeare Rifled arrow of specially processed fiberglass. Competing arrows of woven glass construction are prone to shatter (and are most difficult to balance accurately) but Shakespeare 'Rifled' arrows made by our patented Howald Tubular Glass Process, retain true balance—always.

Look for the Spiral Markings—they indicate arrows made by the exclusive Howald Process construction. You'll know Shakespeare arrows by the "rifling."

Beautifully matched Port Orford cedar arrows with colorful crestring and precision fletching. See packaging and prices on page 16 of this catalog.

"RIFLED" FIBERGLASS AND CEDAR ARROWS

Each arrow is individually marked with its correct spine weight (plus or minus 2½ lbs.) Nock-serts are one-piece construction, in break resistant nylon. Shakespeare Rifled arrows also pull out of the target easily and smoothly, unlike so many other arrows whose finish becomes tacky from friction heat. Rifled arrows are stronger, retain their straightness, and are unaffected by weather conditions. Rifled arrows, from 40 lbs. draw weight and up, are made with camouflaged olive green shafts. Rifled arrows in draw weights of 35 lbs. and less have the famous Shakespeare white shaft with spiral marking. All arrows with points are for 28" draw; precision-fletched and attractively crested. Fletch on target points is 3½", fletch on all others, 5". Specify catalog number and spine weight.

CHOOSING ARROWS—Although the 28" arrow length is an average for adults, requirements for needed arrow length can be gauged by holding a yardstick between your outstretched finger tips with the end of the yardstick touching the middle of the chest. Add 1/4-inch to the length shown on the yardstick for arrow length.

For proper length, arrow should reach from chest beyond extended fingertips.
