

Tickets Available for Annual Fashion Show

The women of the Optimist Club of Perdido Bay will host the annual Luncheon and Fashion Show on Saturday, July 27, in the Lillian Community Club.

The event will feature the latest in fashions, prizes and homemade dishes provided by members and their friends.

Cato’s in Foley will provide the women’s fashions. Polo Ralph Lauren Factory Store in Tanger Outlet Mall will dress the men.

Tickets are $12 each and may be purchased from your favorite Optimist or contact Liz Whitehurst, 251-609-0995, or Sally McKinney, 251-961-2620. Doors will open at noon, with the lunch following at 12:30 p.m. Some tickets will be available at the door, but it is suggested that they be purchased in advance to avoid disappointment.

Proceeds from the event help to provide a variety of programs and special events for local children, including scholarships, essay and oratorical contests, and Christmas and Easter parties for children.

Optimist Jane Foster was one of the models in last year’s Fashion Show hosted by the Optimist Club of Perdido Bay. This year’s event will be held on Saturday, July 27, in Lillian Community Club.

Improvements Still Underway at the Park

What an absolutely glorious time of year in the Lillian Recreational Park! It is continuously improving due to the volunteers and your donations. If you haven't yet responded to the direct mailer (a large colorful and informative post card) that everyone in the Lillian zip code area received, there's good news! We will still accept your donation! (I know, how great is that?!)

The physical address of the park is 33914 Widell Avenue, just off of Perdido Street. However, please send your tax-deductible check to Post Office Box 865, Lillian, 36549.

In the near future you will see the resurfacing of the current basketball/pickleball court, continuing work in the Alabama (Bicentennial) native flower garden and attention directed toward improving the kiddie playground.

We are currently looking at improvements to the existing dog run and adding an additional dog run for larger dogs which will have more space for them to exercise and play. If you are interested in helping us with this project, reach out to me and we will put you and/or your money to good use.

If there are a few residents who would be interested in repairing and staining some of our picnic tables, we would welcome your time and talent.

Movie and Music in the Park is the first Friday of the month and on June 7 we will be showing "Dolphin Tale." Our movies are family friendly, free and fun.

Market in the Park is held the third Saturday every month through fall. A permanent time change of 8 a.m. to noon will start in June.

We are so grateful for our volunteers, donors and park enthusiasts.

Please feel free to drop suggestions along with any change you may have into our park donation box along the walking trail.

Summer is Stressful on Dog's Skin

Lillian Veterinary Hospital offers a bath club to make sure your dog's skin and overall health are in great shape. Bath club dogs visit us at least every two weeks to get a therapeutic bath, thorough ear cleaning, nail trim and glands expressed. Benefits include having vets and technicians have eyes and hands on your pet frequently as well as discounted bathing prices.

Your pet is lathered up, massaged and dried in our temperature controlled facility by our technicians.

Summer is the toughest season for canine skins in this area. We tend to spend time outside, exposing our dogs skin to bugs, sun, water and potentially irritating plants.

Since we want to stay ahead of itchiness, irritation, sores, bacterial and fungal infections, we offer a free Douxo product selected by our veterinarian especially for your pet's skin or ears to the first 12 bath club participants to mention this article.

The general condition of your dog's skin and coat are good indicators of overall health. We'll care for and protect your dog's skin with regular grooming and skin care products designed specifically for dogs.

The skin barrier is complex and fragile. It is essential to protect the body from bacteria, yeasts, allergens and other harmful elements.

It also helps retain skin moisture. The skin offers protection with three defenses: mechanical skin barrier, immunological skin barrier and microbial skin barrier.

This balance is fragile and needs your care and protection. The skin has a principal role: protection from outside aggressors, temperature regulation and sebum regulation.

Dry skin, oily or flaky skin, hot spots and excessive itching can be signs of a defective skin barrier. A vet can prescribe the best product for your dog's skin. Other signs of skin issues include biting or chewing of paws, patchy fur or obvious lesions, thinning fur, reddened skin and bad odor.

To keep your pet healthy and comfortable this summer, call us at 251-962-2304 to join the bath club.

Tools Are Great for Father's Day and for Investors

If you're a dad, you may well be pleased to unwrap some tools as Father's Day gifts. Of course, it might be a stereotype that all men are handy at repairs; women certainly can be every bit as good when it comes to building and fixing things. In fact, the construction process is valuable for anyone to learn – and the same skills that go in to creating and mending physical objects also can be applied to financial projects – such as working toward a comfortable retirement.

Here are a few of those skills:

- Diagnosing the challenge – A good craftsperson knows the first step toward accomplishing any outcome is to assess the challenge. For example, if you want to build some bookshelves right into the wall, you'll need to locate the wall studs, determine if you have adequate space for the shelving you want and allow room for future expansion.

Similarly, if you want to retire at a certain age, you need to consider the key variables: your current and future income, where you'll live and what you'll do as a retiree.

- Assembling the right tools and materials – To put together your bookshelf, you will need the right tools – saw, hammer, drill, sander and so on – and the right building materials – plywood, nails, screws, glue, brackets, moldings and so on. And to work toward a comfortable retirement, you'll also need the right tool – in the form of a long-term financial strategy, based on your specific retirement goals, risk tolerance and time horizon – along with the appropriate materials – the mix of investments you use to carry

Financial Focus

By Jason M. Kozon
of Edward Jones

out that strategy. These investments include those you've placed in your IRA, your 401(k) or other employer-sponsored retirement plan, and those held outside your formal retirement accounts. Ideally, you want a diversified mix of investments capable of providing growth potential over time.

- Review your work – Once you've finished your bookshelf, you occasionally may need to make some minor adjustments or repairs.

As an investor, you also may need to tweak your financial strategy periodically and adjust your investment mix – not necessarily because something is broken, but to accommodate changes in your life, such as a new job, new family situation and new goals.

Furthermore, over time, your risk tolerance may change, and this needs to be reflected in your array of investments.

Tools are a big deal on Father's Day. But the construction-related tasks they represent, physically and symbolically, go beyond any one holiday and can be used by anyone interested in working toward a solid financial future.

What to Know About Termite Coverage

Termite swarm season is around us again. They are a necessary part of the ecosystem. Termites do the very important work of returning trees to soil. You know what termites eat for breakfast, don't you? Oak-meal!

There is something major afoot in the pest control industry. One of the big companies has decided to redo its business model and is sending out letters to their customer doubling, and sometimes tripling, the termite renewal fee.

Let's face it - termites are a major problem in Alabama. In fact, that company released a report in March 2017 naming Alabama, Florida and Texas as areas of the worst termite activity in the nation. In our part of Alabama, it is not if you get termites, it is when and how badly the house is infested.

Termites do over $5 billion dollars in damage to homes every year in the U.S. Homeowner's insurance policies do not cover termites. That's why it is important to get coverage with a reputable termite company.

Back to these letters, what should you do as a consumer? What are your options when a company triples your renewal? Well, sadly, your options are limited.

First, you could choose to pay the ridiculous fee. If you have a repair warranty, that might be a good idea, especially if you have a repair warranty situation going on right now. In order to keep the repairs going until they are finished, you may have to pay the renewal fee. If you want to double check, you may want to call the Department of Agriculture and Industries – Pesticide Management Division at (334) 240-7100 or (800) 642-7761, or send them an email at ask-me@agi.alabama.gov.

Termite coverage is very specific – only the company that currently holds your termite coverage will do warranty repair work. It is critical to determine if you have an active termite situation going on before you try to change companies. You would not want to jeopardize your warranty coverage on your home by prematurely getting another termite company involved.

Another option is to get quotes from other companies to change your coverage. The problem with that plan is that it will still be expensive. The costliest part of any termite warranty is the initial application of whatever treatment plan your termite company offers.

For our part, we use a liquid applied termiticide called Termidor 80 WG or Termidor HP. If you call to make an appointment for an estimate, we are scheduling a couple of weeks out.

If you were an international termite company, and 90% of your liability was coming from one particular area, say the states along the Gulf of Mexico, you might look for ways to reduce the responsibilities in that area.

The bottom line is termites can cause you thousands of dollars in damages if you don't have a warranty. It often costs less to treat your home against termite invasions than it does to paint it. Should you have a termite problem that requires repairs, those costs can quickly rack up much higher than a yearly termite warranty renewal fee.

There are a few things that you can do: Trim all shrubbery near home exteriors to allow airflow and quickly dry damp areas. Use products such as synthetic mulch or pea gravel when landscaping.

Know Your Critters

By Celeste Hadley-Champion

Maintain your home's exterior to prevent water from leaking into wooden siding and window sills. Ensure crawl spaces are properly ventilated to reduce the amount of moisture around floor joists and subflooring.

- A couple of termite jokes because I couldn't decide which one I liked best: What do termites put on their toast? Door jam-b. What flavor do termites like best? Chair-y.

LASAR Group Trains While on Cruise

Training is essential for any rescue or firefighting team to be good at what they do. Members are often required to attend a certain amount of annual training to gain continuing education credits for their certifications. For volunteer organizations, training most often occurs on the weekend or after a long day at work, taking them away from families and friends.

LASAR Commander Ray Hogans found a fun way to combine training time and family time. He set up a five-day EMS training cruise through Carnival Cruise Lines. During the two days the ship was sailing to various port-of-calls, training courses were conducted. During the other three days, attendees and their families enjoyed excursions in Mexico or activities on the ship. Hogans opened the cruise to all local search and rescue units as well as other emergency support groups in the area.

A total of 39 members from various agencies joined 25 members from LASAR to attend the EMS cruise, which left Mobile on April 29. Training on the cruise included pediatric advanced life support, advanced cardiac life support, CPR and AED operations, traffic incident management (classroom portion), emergency vehicle operators (classroom portion), international trauma life support and OSHA bloodborne pathogens. After attending training programs, attendees and their families enjoyed shipboard activities and day excursions in Costa Maya and Cozumel Mexico.

Hogans indicated the cruise was extremely successful with excellent feedback from all attendees. He is looking to do another EMS training cruise in two years or so and looks forward to inviting all area agencies once again.

Anyone interested in joining LASAR (Lower Alabama Search and Rescue) is invited to attend a meeting held the second Monday of the month at 7 p.m. at LASAR headquarters, 34247 West Barclay Avenue in Lillian.
