Coffee & Conversations at the Veterans Museum

Coffee & Conversations

10 a.m.

Broomfield Veterans Museum: 12 Garden Center

The Broomfield Veterans Museum invites you to enjoy coffee, donuts, networking, and a great presentation by a veteran or historian during Coffee & Conversations (C&C).

In an informal setting, these C&C events provide museum visitors with an opportunity to listen to the stories of service and sacrifice, ask questions of our speakers and other veterans, see short videos, and discuss the broader context of their experiences.

June 24 – Don Scanga served five years in the US Army. He initially trained in the Air Defense Artillery and served with a HAWK Missile Battery, Key West, Florida. His talk will focus on the history of the Air Defense Artillery (ADA) and how he learned to electronically publish his book about the ADA.

July 8 – John “JJ” Mackin is a 1968 graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy. He is a retired Navy Captain having served 26 years as a nuclear submarine officer. From 2013 until 2018, he served in the volunteer position of Chairman of USS Colorado (SSN-788) Commissioning Committee. His talk will focus on the commissioning of the USS Colorado.

July 13 – SPECIAL SEMINAR by Fred Martin: “The Life Journey of April Girl” is about a WWII B-17 from factory to 145 missions over Europe to her demise in an Arizona scrap yard, through eye-witness accounts of real Broomfield and Colorado people.

July 22 – Neil Ulevich covered the Vietnam War as a photographer for AP and other organizations in the 1970s and departed Vietnam from the US embassy roof on the last day of the conflict. After Vietnam, he worked for AP in Thailand, where he won the 1977 Pulitzer Prize for Spot News Photography for images of violent political upheaval in Bangkok. The focus of his talk will be his experiences during the Vietnam conflict.

August 12 – Jim Mize served as a US Navy Reserve officer from 1966 to 1969. He was assigned to the Naval Communications Station Greece during the Six Day War between Israel and Egypt. Three days into the war, Jim’s station received an emergency distress message from the Navy ship, USS Liberty (AGTR-5), which was under attack by Israeli planes. Jim’s talk will cover the attack and its aftermath.

August 19 – SPECIAL SEMINAR from Broomfield Veterans Museum Board President Gary Francis titled “Life Aboard a Nuclear Submarine.” Gary reported to his first submarine, USS Skipjack, SSN 585, in December, 1970. On the Skipjack, there were many design changes that were products of new scientific insight into submarine design. The submarine industry, now with nuclear power, had wanted to make a “true” submarine. This required a design in its element underwater, not solely one theoretically able to remain submerged indefinitely. The greatest alteration was the new tear-drop hull, pioneered by the conventionally-powered USS Albacore (AGSS-569), and designed for optimum performance underwater. Following Skipjack Gary attended the Submarine Officers Advanced course prior to being assigned to USS Tecumseh, SSBN 628 as Chief Engineer during the period December 1973 to December 1976. The assignment on the Tecumseh helped to develop the management skills and helped prepare Gary for the Command tour ahead.

August 26 – Colleen Sawyer has been a previous Coffee and Conversation speaker at the Broomfield Veterans Museum on several occasions. She began reenacting Mamie Doud Eisenhower at the library in 2014 to celebrate Mamie’s birthday and bring attention to the Eisenhower connection to Broomfield. Her talk will tell the story of Alice Stokes Paul, an American Quaker, suffragist, feminist, and women’s rights activist, and one of the foremost leaders and strategists of the campaign for the Nineteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution which prohibits sex discrimination in the right to vote.

Broomfield Community Premieres Play Written by Max Cabot

BCAH Presents Broomfield Community Players in Dot Gone

August 25 & 26 | 7 p.m.

August 27 | 2 p.m.

Broomfield Auditorium: 3 Community Park Rd.

Tickets: Bcp.Booktix.com

Broomfield Community Players is set to captivate audiences with an uproarious theatrical production titled "Dot Gone," written by Broomfield resident Max Cabot.

Max's witty and insightful script promises to captivate audiences, shedding light on the rollercoaster ride faced by internet startups during the turn of the millennium. With its narrative centered around the rise and demise of an internet startup at the turn of the millennium, the play delves into the unbridled enthusiasm, ambitions, and subsequent struggles faced by the company's employees. As the plot unfolds, interpersonal conflicts, management pressures, and the harsh realities of the marketplace take their toll, leading to deteriorating relationships and unmasking the flaws within each character.

Early Life and Theatre Background:

Max Cabot's journey in the world of theater began during his college years, where he studied theatre and honed his passion for the dramatic arts. Following his studies, Max found himself drawn to theatre in Los Angeles, where he became involved in various Improv Groups, fostering his improvisational skills. Notably, he also had the opportunity to participate in Director's Lab West, a prestigious program that allows emerging directors to explore their craft.

A Tale of Startups and Shifting Paths:

In 1998, Max embarked on a different path, joining an internet startup as a web designer specializing in creating websites for Home Owner Associations. The exhilarating potential of the dot-com era propelled the company forward, but by 2001, the startup's doors closed, revealing the harsh realities of the ever-changing marketplace. Undeterred by this setback, Max's professional journey led him to a data analyst position in an insurance company, where he continues to apply his analytical prowess.

The Theatrical Spectrum:

Parallel to his corporate endeavors, Max has actively pursued his passion for theater as an actor, director, and playwright. He has crafted numerous plays, including the acclaimed works "Ranting," "The Mall," and "It's Not Unusual." During his time in Los Angeles, Max immersed himself in the vibrant theatre scene, both acting and directing various productions. After relocating to Denver a decade ago, he continued to grace the stage, enriching the local theatre community with his talents. Max's involvement with Broomfield Community Players (BCP) has been noteworthy having acted in productions such as "Rumors," "A Gift to Remember," and "Plaza Suite," while also assuming directorial roles in BCP's renditions of "A Christmas Carol" and "Rehearsal for Murder."

Max Cabot's journey from the world of startups to the realm of stagecraft is a testament to his versatile talents and unyielding dedication to the performing arts. As both a playwright and a thespian, Max has left his mark on the theater communities of Los Angeles and Broomfield, captivating audiences with his insightful storytelling and engaging performances. "Dot Gone" serves as the latest addition to his repertoire, promising to be a memorable production that will entertain and resonate with theatergoers.

Save the Date: Celebration of the Life and Music of Alex Craig, Composer and Pianist (1946-2020)

September 17 | 4 p.m.
Broomfield Auditorium: 3 Community Park Rd.
Admission: Free

Please join ASTER Women's Chamber Choir and guest soloists for stories, performances, and a reception honoring one of ASTER's founding members and accompanists. The choir members (and the conductor) became better musicians by singing the pieces which he composed for us.

ASTER would not be where it is today without Alex's support and encouragement. We miss his jokes and his presence. We are grateful for this opportunity to honor his memory and thank him.

Alex was a part of the musical scene in Boulder from the mid-1960s when he began accompanying while an undergraduate at CU-Boulder. His compositions comprise orchestral, choral, piano, chamber music, and over eighty songs. Alex held the position of Staff Accompanist at the CU-Boulder College of Music from 1976 until 2011 and played for hundreds of auditions, recitals, and concerts. He and his wife, Christina Lynn-Craig, moved to Broomfield in 1992 and performed together and with students, friends and ASTER Women's Chamber Choir many, many times.

Chadash Contemporary Dance Movement

Beautiful Things

August 11 & 12 | 7 p.m.

August 12 & 13 | 1 p.m.

Broomfield Auditorium: 3 Community Park Rd.

Tickets: Events.humanitix.com/beautifulthings

Chadash's premiere of "Beautiful Things" focuses on an original story based on the character of Mr. Jude, a high school teacher who has poured out his life for his students and continued to mentor them long after they have graduated. This story will be told primarily through dance, by Chadash professional company dancers from Colorado and all over the country, but will also be told employing other media including spoken word, visual art, photography and more.

As the show follows Mr. Jude's retirement video and what his students have to say about the legacy he is leaving behind as well as everything he has taught them, a pattern becomes clear. Mr. Jude wants to teach his students that there is beauty everywhere around, no matter what the circumstances that surround them, if they are willing to behold it. We meet a high school freshman who is dealing with intense peer pressure and bullying, a college freshman who is struggling to know which path to take, a thirty-something mother who is also a successful lawyer and trying to figure out how to juggle it all, and a forty year old single man who struggles with loneliness and longs to find his soulmate. Mr. Jude impresses upon them all that there is beauty waiting to be experienced even in the midst of all of their struggles. With a poignant surprise twist at the end of the show, this is a powerful concert that you don't want to miss!

Broomfield Spellbinders Training Scheduled for September

Broomfield Spellbinders is looking for new volunteer storytellers to share stories in elementary school classrooms. Our storytellers have more fun than you can imagine while bridging the generation gap. We also know that learning and sharing new stories improves our mental health.

All Spellbinders storytellers must complete a 12-hour training session that has been accredited by the National Storytelling Network. This required training will be held at Brunner Farmhouse (640 Main St.). All classes will be held from 1-4 p.m. on the following dates:

Tuesday, September 12

Thursday, September 14

Monday, September 18

Thursday, September 21

The training includes an overview of Spellbinders parent organization's history and principles as well as information on types of stories and where to find them. The major focus, however, is helping new storytellers learn to find appropriate stories, practice telling them, and get feedback from fellow trainees and the instructor.

Following completion of classroom training, new storytellers shadow an experienced teller/mentor, observing that mentor in a classroom session and telling a story to a class and getting feedback from the mentor.

Our instructor, Wynn Montgomery, believes that his role is to help each student find and hone his/her own storytelling style and then to find the kinds of stories that fit that style. For more information, you can reach out to Wynn by calling 720-420-0222. You can also get more information on Broomfield Spellbinders under "Programs" on the BCAH website.
