

Allergy Expert Dr. Robert M. Naclerio Serves as JDP's Allergy Consultant

August 24, 2009

LANSDALE, PENNSYLVANIA, August 24, 2009 - JDP Therapeutics, Inc. is pleased to announce that Dr. Robert Naclerio, an expert in the field of allergy and allergy therapy, has agreed to join JDP's Advisory Team as an allergy consultant effective immediately. Dr. Naclerio is expected to provide key guidance and support to the Company's planned clinical trials in the field of allergy therapy and anaphylaxis treatment.

Dr. Naclerio is the Section Chief, Otolaryngology at University of Chicago. Dr. Robert Naclerio is internationally recognized for his landmark research in allergic and non-allergic rhinitis. His research projects have been funded, in part, by the National Institutes of Health. In his clinical work, Dr. Naclerio specializes in the management of sinusitis in children as well as adults.

Recognized for his extensive research and clinical expertise, Dr. Naclerio has presented more than 400 lectures in the United States and foreign countries. He also has published more than 280 clinical articles and 70 book chapters. In addition, he serves on the editorial boards of Archives of Otolaryngology, American Journal of Rhinology, Rhinology, and Laryngoscope.

For further information, please call 215-661-8557 or email info@jdptherapeutics.com.