

#5 Student MJ Q&A

5. How do we prevent other cases of middle schoolers getting edibles (like in Framingham)? There is certainly no easy answer to this question, due to the fact that if an individual wishes to break a law, violate a rule, or undermine authority, there is sometimes no stopping the person from doing so. Instead, as educators it is our job to properly educate all of our students and community members regarding the dangers of all types of narcotics, specifically those that can be disguised as a common food or snack, such as an edible. We must be vigilant as a community and work together to encourage students to make proper decisions regarding their own health and well-being and hope that our young people use this education to make appropriate choices.

These responses were provided by James Adams, Superintendent of the Ashland Public Schools.

 S T A N D