

Building Relationships

- Build good relationships with your child’s caretakers, healthcare providers, therapists, teachers, staff and administrators at school. As Leslie Seid Margolis, Esq. from Maryland Disability Learning Center (www.Wrightslaw.com) writes: “Good relationships will generally ensure that issues you bring up will be taken seriously. Do not complain about every issue that comes up ... This is the equivalent of crying wolf, and ensures that when a serious issue does arise, you will not be taken seriously.”
- Make friends with a therapist or a nurse at your medical supplies company. They are great resources to help you find the right equipment.
