Quotes:

“Not only will she graduate with numerous honors, but her teachers hold her in high regard, never having to administer or request administrative and disciplinary action, and continuously praise her. She participates in and promotes school activities, completes the work and tasks set before her without argument, and often projects the can-do attitude that motivates other students to do the same.” Jennifer Ericsson - School Counseling Director

“I sincerely thank you for considering me for this prestigious scholarship award. I am very humble and thankful for your organization and your commitment to providing financial assistance to students to help them in reaching their career goals.” Brittney
