

Plymouth Land Trust Hosts Tree Walk on June 3

The Plymouth Land Trust is leading a tree walk on Sunday, June 3 as part of the statewide Connecticut Trails Weekend. Discover how to identify trees by sight, smell, and touch on this fascinating exploration of a neighborhood forest. The walk takes place on the Land Trust's Leach Stanton Preserve on North Street. The hike is about one mile and includes a tour of historic Plymouth Center. Participants should meet on the Plymouth Green at the corner of North Street and Park Street at 2pm. The walk will last about one hour, and concludes with free refreshments at Antiques at the Green. The walk is free and children are welcome. Rain cancels. Call 860-921-6118 or email info@plymouthlandtrust.org to register.

The Plymouth Land Trust is an all volunteer charitable organization dedicated to preserving land in Plymouth for its natural, scenic, historic, and agricultural value. For more information, go to www.plymouthlandtrust.org
