

A Reminder of the Resolutions from the 90th Annual DCCW Convention

At Our last meeting I reminded you about the first two resolutions.

From the Keynote address:

We resolved to write down five things each day that we are grateful for, and to pray each day, the seven-word prayer, “Thank you God, Your Will Be Done!”

DO YOU DO THIS?

From the Legislative workshop:

We resolved to work to promote education about the travesty of opioid overdose and its prevention, and encourage law enforcement agencies to work with communities, health care providers and pharmaceutical companies to provide education on the cost, as well as the crime rates, and problems associated with opioid addiction in the community and work with our elected officials, to support legislation and funding to build treatment facilities, in all rural counties with addiction problems.

WHAT ARE WE DOING TO HELP ELIMINATE THE OPIOID EPIDEMIC?

And for today our Leadership workshop resolution was:

Whereas, we are all members of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, and

Whereas, Saints Miriam, Deborah, Ruth, Priscilla, Teresa of Avila, and Gianna Molla stood strong against diversity,

Be it resolved, that we will study and follow the example of these strong Sisters in Faith, stand firm in our Catholic values in these troubled times of social unrest, and lead our lives in accordance with these values, doing so with our hearts full of joy.
