AVID IP collaborates with Thomson Reuters on intellectual property legal insight 2015 service edition in the UAE.

Dubai, UAE As part of its ongoing collaboration with Thomson Reuters, Avid Intellectual Property is pleased to announce the launch of Intellectual Property (IP) in the UAE edition of Thomson Reuters Legal Insight Service. The edition was developed by Avid IP for use as a subscription-based service by Thomson Reuters to its ever growing intelligent information database for businesses and professionals worldwide.

IP in the UAE 2015 edition, offers a description of intellectual property laws, filing procedures and enforcement in the UAE including trademarks, patents, industrial designs and copyrights. This will be a useful tool and guide for professionals and businesses that are considering protecting their IP, ultimately offering a comprehensive understanding of IP Laws and protection in the UAE.

“We are very happy with the launch of the Legal Insight-UAE edition and we hope that it will help local and international companies in understanding IP laws and procedures in the UAE. Equally, it will clarify the protection and enforcement which is available to IP owners.” said Victor Siriani Managing Partner at Avid IP.

Thomson Reuters is the world’s leading source of intelligent information for businesses and professionals powered by the world's most trusted news organization.

AVID IP is a Dubai-based intellectual property agency with affiliate offices in several countries in the MENA region and India.
