Unfortunately, The Guccie Times feels this is the last time we are going to hear directly from Mr. Guccione. He said he’s moving on. We’ve had the pleasures of his interviews for some time now. We did speak to him this morning and here is what he had to say:

GT: Mr. Guccione, can you give the American people some insight as to the recent conviction of the woman who stabbed the man and ate his heart?

JG: That doesn’t concern me. Jim needs to keep his job and complete his Probation Term.

GT: Is Robinson in fact doing that?

JG: He’s got some leads on some art jobs. He’s hoping they fixed the plumbing at the Luna Restaurant and that Willie will be in today. He’s concerned that the restaurant did not pass the inspection for mental hygiene.

JG: So, tell us, do have any information about the Jezebel girl?

JG: Not at the moment. There is more treachery around the world at the current time. Jim says he wants to take a trip to Ghana to see how they are doing. He says there are Wall Street investors in suits who buy kingdoms of people in Ghana and then starve them.

GT: Do you support that claim?

JG: I can’t say, that’s why I made Jim my investigator. He’s working with a team and has a detective upstate that is assisting him with the identity theft case.

GT: So you’re in New York now?

JG: Yes, I will be here for some time.

GT: Can you tell us, Jim, do you have a car? Do you have an apartment in a high-rise?

JG: I have cars and apartments, yes.

GT: Are you a native New Yorker?

JG: I’ve spent a lot of time here but I was born in Sicily.

GT: Can you tell us, what is your favorite dish? Do you like Italian food?

JG: I enjoy a good lasagna dinner, yes.

GT: Do you fish?

JG: Yes, when I am in Sicily.

GT: If you don’t mind us asking, do you have any helicopters?

JG: Yes, several.

JGT: And, well, are you married Mr. Guccione?

GJG: No.

GT: Well, Mr. Guccione, we thank you for your time. Will we hear from you again?

JG: In time, yes.

GT: Very well. Have a nice day.

JG: Likewise.
Robinson Too Hard on the Kids
Preaching from the Kingdom of God Causes Controversy

In recent publications of The Soulwinner, the Guccie Times has been made aware of the conflicts between the social classes and religion pertaining to the preaching of the Bible. People in general do not want to give up their lifestyles for a Godly lifestyle because it is too comfortable and they have worked too hard to obtain it. And the preaching of the word of God is not going to change them.

The Guccie Times recently interviewed Mr. Robinson to try and clear up some of this conflict. Here is what he said.

GT: Jim, we all enjoy your artwork and computer designs in Photoshop and Publisher. We enjoy your English, being that your grammar is not 100% correct. But many have been in argument over your articles in your Soulwinner lineup. What can you tell us about that?

JR: Well, I do not intentionally try to worry anyone about their lifestyle. As a matter of fact, God never said he was displeased with it. Its just that it is not the Kingdom of God.

JG: So you mean to say they can have their Kingdom of Earth and not have to worry?

JR: Yes, most certainly. But maybe I can put it this way. When you’re out drinking, maybe have one less drink that night so you don’t become an alcoholic. And when you light up, put off your next cigarette for about an hour so maybe you can train your body not to crave it. And take one less hit of crack that evening, or one less toke from the bowl that party and maybe you well not become a drug addict. God doesn’t want to see you ruin your temple that way. Do you really want to do that?

GT: Can you liken it to the difference between the Kingdom of Earth and the Kingdom of God?

JR: Yes, by all means. They are two different kingdoms. When you sin there is going to be a punishment for it later on. As the Bible teaches us you reap what you sow. But I understand that some of us do not mind that punishment for the sake of helping someone else.

GT: Do you think we can get along, Jim?

JR: Yes, certainly we can. I get along with you, don’t I?

GT: Well, Jim has elevated you to a an investigator. Maybe for you that is better than a Janitor?

JR: I liked being a Janitor, really. I wish I could have stayed that way. But I had to move on because Jim was calling me again.

GT: So then we can rest assured that God loves us even though we live in the Kingdom of Earth?

JR: Yes, by all means he does. Just be careful of the other kingdom. It waits at the doors.

GT: Well, we want to thank you Mr. Robinson. The people appreciate your willingness to be public, at least in our media. We are certain to reciprocate by keeping you in Jim’s media and not exposing you to the world.

JR: Well, this is the world wide web.

GT: Yes, but its Jim’s media.
