

Virtual Leadership During a Pandemic

Challenges and Possibilities!

The mission of the American Business Women's Association is to bring together businesswomen of diverse occupations and to provide opportunities for them to help themselves and others grow personally and professionally through leadership, education, networking support, and national recognition.

*Changing Women's Lives...

How do we face these challenges and continue forward?

The Covid-19 pandemic has posed new challenges for leaders in both large and small businesses, and in organizations like ABWA, because of the new health measures that have forced us to work remotely to prevent the spread of the virus. This has led to organizations having to be managed virtually which brings with it its own set of challenges, especially for those who are unfamiliar with technology and used to face to face interaction. This is especially so for small businesses trying to remain afloat through resource constraints and a global economy in distress.

Patrice Manuel is Founder, CEO and Senior Principal of P/Strada, the foundation of which is the result of Ms. Manuel's wide-ranging experience managing complex challenges throughout the world over a 20-year period as a U.S. Army officer. Her combination of experience and education has prepared her to create a team of like-minded professionals who provide successful solutions in the areas of professional and organizational development, project management, training, business and leadership coaching.
