A note from Rick: Mixed markets at TLA this week. The slaughter market was a bit stronger this week for both cows and steers. Cows were $3 to $4 higher with the majority of the cows in the mid to high 60's. Steers sold stronger as well with Holsteins between $1.05 and $1.10. The calf market was softer this week, which has turned into a bit of a trend over the last few weeks. We're busy in the office putting catalogs together for several of our fall sales. The excitement is definitely building fast as we're only a few weeks away from the Driving Horse sale on August 28th. The building project is coming along very well and we're looking forward to finishing up and being able to use it right away.
