At the next membership meeting: Laine Snyder, Executive Director Zanesville Museum of Art

As a studio potter with a small workshop, I created work that progressed organically from form to form. When I began selling my work on the retail market and then to the wholesale market, I was confronted with a new set of challenges. My studio practices changed from one-of-a-kind to production pottery. I’ll discuss the pros and cons of making this transition.

It’s almost time for opening of the “Zanesville Prize for Contemporary Ceramics”!

The ZAAP gallery is helping to celebrate this great event by focusing on the ceramic arts in the gallery for October. Details about the ZP can be found at <http://zanesvilleprize.org/>

Featured Artist for October: Crystal Fuller

Working with oil, or pastels, over the years I lean toward nature. Landscapes have been my passion as I marvel at the beauty all around. Painting is a spiritual activity for me...my time of reflection, meditation, and thanksgiving. My hope is that my work will awaken the same, it the viewer's mind.

From the desk of the director: John Taylor-Lehman

Thank you Lori and Jay Wince for featuring ZAAP artists at your Weasel Boy Brew Pub. The opening of the exhibit was on Thursday Sept 11th and featured musical entertainment by Chris Spires and refreshments provided by the pub. 20 ZAAP artists are represented in the show that runs until the end of October.

Lehman, Janet Taylor-Lehman, and Hong Yin.

Demonstrators are needed! ZAAP artists will be featured at the OUZ/Zane State library during the months of Nov. and Dec. We are also going to be featured during their "3rd Thursday" event series on the 13th of Nov. During this event it would be great PR to have a few ZAAP artists demonstrating a technique, process or style. CONTACT ME if you are interested.

Welcome Back Bob Evans party and jam session will be after the October Art Walk Room 420 Masonic Temple. Jane will have the elevator service available until midnight. All are welcome to come, enjoy some music, food and drink. Also, Jane will be moving from the Masonic Temple to the lower gallery of ZAAP and will be open for the November 1st Friday. We look forward to her return to 1st Fridays at ZAAP.

A brochure is being developed to advertise the ZAAP Gallery, Studio 202, the Yan Sun Museum, and the Masonic Temple artists. Members of the Welcome Center staff are coordinating the development of the brochure that will be available for the 2015 tourist season. Upon completion the current plan is to have the brochure available at the Welcome Center and local hotels to encourage people to visit.

Congratulations to the ZAAP members juried in to the 70th Annual Ohio Exhibition at the Zanesville Museum of Art: Mary Ann Bucci, Nora Daniel, Susan Stubbins, Yan Sun, John Taylor-

Opportunity for "Young Adult" artists to join ZAAP for FREE. (this notice is a repeat from an earlier issue)

The officers of ZAAP are delighted to announce that The Muskingum County Community Foundation awarded a $2,500 Grant to the Zanesville Appalachian Arts Project in March 2014. The money is to be used for supporting and encouraging local art teachers and "Young Adult" artist (ages 18-35) to be more involved in the arts in Zanesville and Muskingum County.

To meet this goal we are offering FREE 1 year memberships to ZAAP for members of those groups. Invitation letters have been sent out to the local art teachers in Muskingum, County as well as the colleges.

Personal invitations have been given out during events at the ZAAP gallery and new members have been signed up.

We are looking for new members to share this FREE membership offer with so please spread the word. The INVITATION and sign-up form will accompany this newsletter.

Please contact John Taylor-Lehman at info@zaapart.org if you have any questions.
