

HORNBY HISTORY

- <1791 Hornby Island was the territory of the Pentlatch, a people belonging to the Coast Salish group of West Coast people, who called the island Ja-dai-aich, meaning the "outer island"
- 1791 Spaniards found the island and named it Isla de Lerena after the Spanish Finance Minister, Don Pedro Lopez de Lerena
- 1850 British found and re-named it Hornby Island, after Admiral Phipps Hornby - the Commander of the Pacific Station - ten years later Mt. Geoffrey and Phipps Point were named after the Admiral and his son, Captain Geoffrey Hornby of HMS Tribune
- 1855 No Pentlatch left on Hornby due to a variety of factors including sickness, slave raids and colonization
- 1860 The largely uninhabited island suffered a huge fire which cleared land for new settlers
- 1870 A whaling company moved its base to Hornby, but two years later went into liquidation and 100 acres at Whaling Station Bay were auctioned off - this land was sheltered, had water, and had deep fertile soil
- 1960 Hornby had grown into a prosperous community with 150 residents made up of fishermen, subsistence farmers, resort owners and retired intellectuals
- 2019 Today, Hornby Island has roughly 950 permanent residents, but reaches upwards of 6000 people on the island in July + August

FLORA + FAUNA FACTS

- 33% of Hornby Island's land mass is protected and preserved as Provincial and Regional Parks and as Crown Land
- The herring spawn in March attracts tens of thousands of birds, as well as large numbers of eagles and sea lions - Helliwell Park is an excellent viewing spot as Norris Rocks is a major hangout for wildlife
- Upland habitats adjacent to Lambert Channel (the body of water between Hornby/Denman) are part of the dry Garry oak/Douglas fir forests that are restricted in BC to the Georgia Strait
- Helliwell is at the northern edge of Garry Oak distribution which occurs at drier sites and is home to the endangered Taylor's checkerspot butterfly
- Chum salmon return to spawn in Beulah Creek from mid-November to December depending on water levels - fish can often be glimpsed in the pool to the south side of Central Road where the creek passes through a culvert under the road west of the Co-op

IMPACT REDUCTION

LOOK

Protect the environment

- Stay on designated roads and trails
- Avoid rubbing petroglyphs
- Don't touch organisms in tide pools
- Don't have fires on the sandstone + use fire rings provided on beaches
- Keep buckets of water near and put out fires
- Pack out what you pack in
- Pick up after your pets
- Put garbage in bins or take garbage with you
- Do not move any natural materials from parks

LEARN

LEAVE FOR THE FUTURE

Respect wildlife

- Avoid sensitive habitats and nest sites
- Be patient and move slowly/quietly
- Watch from a distance
- Do not disturb baby seals
- Keep dogs leashed

Stay safe

- Watch for wildlife on roads (especially deers at dawn/dusk)
- Be aware of local hunting season information

WATER ACCESS ON HORNBY ISLAND

WATER CONSERVATION

1. Retrieve from ground

2. Catch from air

3. Reuse old water

4. Buy from provider

- Drilled and dug wells are the main source of water on Hornby, followed by rainwater collection
- Groundwater flows freely across property boundaries and is therefore a shared responsibility
- Aquifers on Hornby are unconfined fractured bedrock and are classified as highly vulnerable
- Residential wells are concentrated in the more populated areas and are not evenly distributed throughout the island

HOW TO CONSERVE

If it's yellow, let it mellow - If it's brown, flush it down

Modern toilets hold an average of 6 litres per flush, but old ones can hold 9-12!

Don't run water when you don't need it

Be sure to turn off the water when you are brushing your teeth, shaving, etc.

Take shorter + fewer showers

We're on Hornby now, so let your freak flag fly! If you really want to fit in with the locals, just go for a swim instead!

Be green by going gold

It is very responsible and attractive to bolster a beautiful yellow lawn during our dry season.
