

EINSTEIN IN OXFORD

A talk by Andrew Robinson

Einstein biographer and author/editor of the newly-released edition of Einstein: A Hundred Years of Relativity

DATE AND TIME:

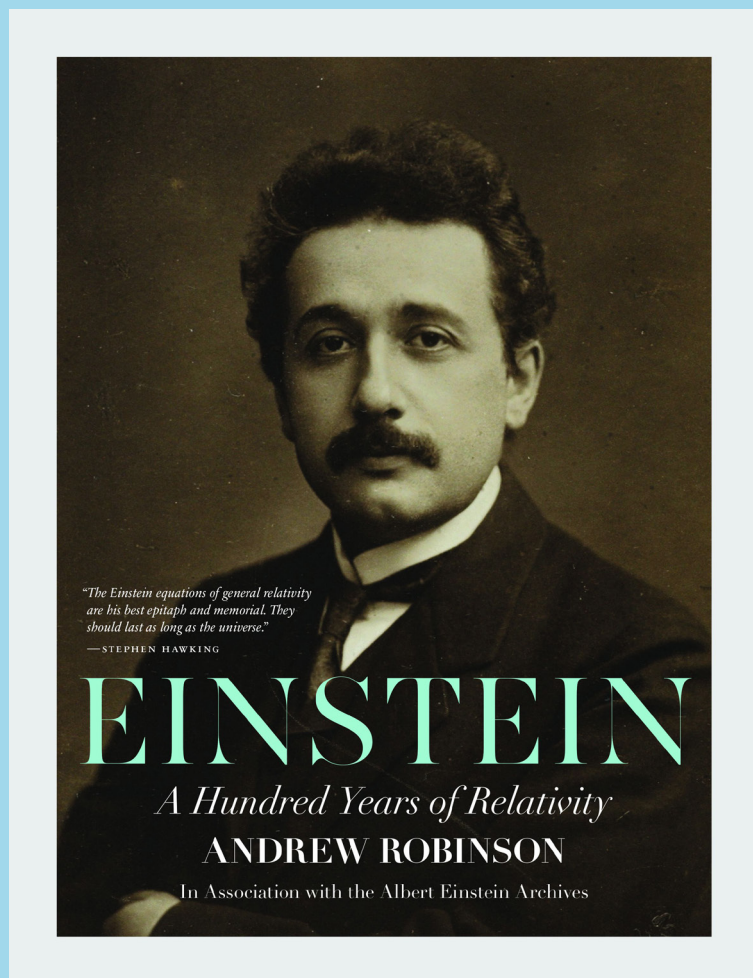

Thursday 3rd December,
5.30pm
Tea and biscuits from 5.00pm

VENUE:

Blue Boar Lecture Theatre,
Christ Church, OX1 1DP

Books available at a special price

Free entry

ABOUT THE EVENT

In 1931-33, Einstein lectured on relativity in Oxford, received an honorary degree and had rooms in Christ Church, before fleeing his home in Nazi Germany to the USA. For the centenary of general relativity (1915-2015), Einstein biographer Andrew Robinson reflects on relativity, Einstein's intriguing relationship with Oxford and the puzzle of his universal fame.

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY PRESS