

Lauren Kean is a graduate of Ball State University with Bachelor of Science degrees in Theatre Education and English Education. Recent productions include: Hello Dolly, Stalag 17, A Raisin in the Sun, As You Like It, Aftershock, subText, and The Boxcar Children. Lauren also served as assistant director for the original work Will Power, the 2013 Indiana Thespians All State production. As an undergraduate student, Lauren presented at the National Council of Teachers of English annual conference on using theatre-based strategies to help struggling readers. Lauren is also a proud graduate of the UC College-Conservatory of Music Preparatory Department Certificate Acting Program. She is thrilled to start working with the students, parents, and staff of Turpin High School and Theatre Department.