President's Message

For those who have participated before welcome back and to all the newbies we hope you enjoy the show.

PPBA takes pride in using some of the top judges in the country and we provide competition in all classes that is the best in the west. We hope you will come and show with us and enjoy the weekend.

We have a new host hotel this year, the Ramada. We understand they will be under construction during our show this year, so please forgive us, but it will be awesome for our future shows. In addition they are building a new ball room which will host our future banquets, but for this coming show we will not have a banquet. I apologize for this and we look forward to bringing it back next year.
