

Your Source for Tape Drive Media

If you are in the market for tape drive media, then look no further. Backupworks.com is your “one stop shop” online resource for all of your data storage needs. We provide a variety of solutions and many product lines to choose from. We are also a valuable resource of data storage information, whether you are in the market for tape drive media or accessories. In addition, customers can take advantage of our full service repair facility, with factory-trained technicians offering quick and affordable service. We are dedicated to first class service, providing you with a hassle-free online shopping experience.

As an alternative, we also carry a large inventory of reconditioned and end-of-life products. Included is a 6-month warranty and free shipping, with an extended warranty available on all purchases.

Snap Server Storage Solutions

Backupworks.com now offers this popular storage solution. A snap server or Networked Attached Storage (NAS) allows a company to connect users through a network. These NAS boxes are an effective storage solution for small companies and larger corporations looking to store their data. They easily integrate into any company through a unified software platform for extra network storage. You will find data capacity ranging from 80GB to 29TB, and support by Windows, Netware, Macintosh, Linux, and Unix. Visit us at www.backupworks.com and click on the various links to learn more about our snap server options, or call to speak directly with a professional who can help you choose the best option for your business.