

English Language Learning

This program is for intermediate to advanced adult learners in need of English language instruction. Our program is designed to improve life and workplace communication skills through instruction in grammar, sentence composition, reading, writing, listening, and conversational speaking. Students are given learning assessments throughout the ten week program, and are awarded with a Certificate of Completion for their achievement.

Please call to discuss financial options:

RIC Outreach Programs are available to qualified students in need of training and employment, including clients of the Rhode Island Department of Labor and Training (DLT), the Department of Human Services Family Independence Program (DHS), and the Office of Rehabilitative Services (ORS). Other potential funding sources may apply. Workforce and Innovation Opportunity Act funded training may be provided only to individuals who qualify for the program, and only if funds are available.
