

went to medical repeatedly she was so sick and she kept telling them the day before she died that she was sick and something was wrong her Port had come loose and she died from it when they found her she was swollen like a balloon and purple