

Audition Prep: How to do your best

Taught by: Marcee Ludlow

August 10th-August 13th 1:00-3:00PM

Class Description and Objectives

In addition to teaching skills and polishing existing audition material, this class will also help students learn the best mindset that will help them not just in auditions, but in all aspects of their lives. This will be accomplished through discussions, stories, acting games, and practicing in front of their peers.

Students are welcome to come with a monologue and song already chosen, but it is not required. We will also start work on a new monologue, taking them through the process of selection, analysis, practice, and polishing. The last day of class will include a showcase for families in the last 20 minutes of class.
