A Note from Rick: Markets were steady at TLA this week. We've seemed to settle into a position in all markets that is very stable. Slaughter cattle dropped off about a month ago and seemed to have bottomed out. I am anticipating that they will probably remain at these levels for the short term. Slaughter cows have been very steady for a while now and I don't see anything to shake this market up, as long as cattle prices remain steady. The calf market along with feeder cattle dropped off when grain prices escalated and will probably remain unsettled along with the grain prices. Dairy cattle have had slight gains throughout the first half of the year and I look for these gains to continue. Milk prices are much better and the flood of Dairy cattle that have been on the market for quite some time has definitely slowed down. With an increase in demand and a decrease in supply, I think this is a market to watch moving forward. We had a great Fourth of July at TLA. The Indiana State Championship Horse Pull was a good one. An interesting fact to share is that one of the horses in the winning team was purchased here at TLA in last Fall's Draft Horse Sale. Good Stuff!!! Hope to see you at TLA!
