NEW MUSIC FROM THE ARDVARK FELON

Local artist celebrates new single with performance at The Grape Room

“Where is Home?” is a nostalgic, wintery waltz in 5/4 time and is the follow-up release to The Ardvark Felon’s 2017 debut, My Baby Gets Me High. This story portrays the struggle to hold on to what’s helpful, and let go of what’s harmful from the comforts of childhood after discovering the world and one’s self.

About the band: Ardvark Felon is the anagram-derived alter ego of Frank Velardo, composer, lead singer, guitar-slinger, and man in front of the band. The band is spontaneous but polished, serious yet absurd. They’re funky in all the right ways, love playing for dancers, and know just when to turn things up with explosions of group improvisation and jamming.
