

Our History

In a bedroom community, just outside of Dallas, sits 980 acres of hills and wooded land along the southern shores of Lake Lewisville. Developed by Mobil Land beginning in 1985, this property would ultimately become the master-planned community of Highland Shores.

Today, the community includes 1,824 single-family homes, a community center, eight tennis courts, three swimming pools, two soccer fields, two playgrounds, five miles of walking paths, and more than 150 acres of common area. It's a great place to live!