Tembi Products becomes the exclusive distributor for Bloxygen® in Canada
Bloxygen® Finish Preserver is now available for Canadian retailers and consumers.

Rouyn-Noranda, QC: Tembi Products, a company specializing in development, processing and distribution of wood finishing products since 2002, announced today that it has secured exclusive distribution rights for Bloxygen® Finish Preserver in Canada, as part of an agreement with IronWood Designs, a California based company, which manufactures Bloxygen®.

Bloxygen® is available immediately to Canadian retailers and consumers who would like to purchase this innovative, easy to use product, which will save leftover finishes and chemicals from oxidation or moisture damage.

Tembi Products CEO René Carrier said “We are always striving to provide our customers with new and innovative solutions to improve efficiency while also minimizing wastes and losses. The addition of Bloxygen® to our wood finishing products range will allow consumers to store their finishing products for longer periods of time without worrying about their premature loss of efficiency or degradation.”

Retailers based in Canada are invited to visit the website of Tembi products and to contact the company for any interest in selling the product, by visiting www.tembi.ca/en.

Canadian consumers who would like to purchase Bloxygen® are encouraged to ask their local retailer about the product, or to visit Tembi Products’ sister online retail website for consumers, www.artdec.ca/en.
