

Nikhila Tarini Ramesh

I am an Indian, born and brought up in Dubai, UAE. I grew up watching my father Dr. S K Ramesh blossom and shift his career from being an orthopedic surgeon to practicing alternative methods of healing. He wanted to reach to the core, the root cause of disease. No matter what aspect of life, when you are not at ease, it's known as DIS-EASE. After completing my undergraduate and gaining industry experience in the US, I joined hands with my father in 2013 to achieve our goals and take our company, DRPF Worldwide forward. It was the perfect fit to my personality and life's purpose. My vision is to help people reach their highest potential and make themselves happy. Because I believe when you are happy, you are in a state of completion and fulfillment. Mongolia was the first country, which accepted me as a teacher with open arms in the year of 2014. Today, I take pride in being one of the youngest master teachers at DRPF.

I've helped enter and establish new markets such as, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Belgium, Poland, India and UAE. I would love for you to join me and experience your true self and the unknown anatomy.

Through my father's long journey, he was enlightened and since then has developed several transformational trainings, techniques and tools to heal oneself from within, to touch the unknown anatomy of the heart. In simple terms, each one of us needs to strengthen our Awareness, Consciousness and Energy in order to Manifest, Enrich and Fulfill all aspects of your lives. It is an organized step-by-step way to create "The Eternal YOU" and the KEY to De-programing ones self. The basic is called The Solution. Just remember, when you're honest and compassionate about your soul's journey nothing can stop you.

I do not have my own website just yet, but you can learn more about what we do at www.drskramesh.com. I worked together with my father to launch his first book, Awakening the ACE: The Solution, www.awakeningtheace.com
