

Marti Tomlin

Director of University Recreation
University of Richmond

Marti earned her Bachelor of Arts in Health and Applied Human Sciences from the University of North Carolina Wilmington, holds a Master of Science in Sports Leadership from Virginia Commonwealth University, and is currently pursuing her Doctorate in Higher Education Leadership, also through VCU. Marti has oversight of the University Recreation Department which she believes is the “fun” place on campus and she is grateful to provide students an outlet to focus on their well-being. She is responsible for managing daily operations of the Weinstein Center for Recreation and Wellness as well as other indoor and outdoor recreation facilities on campus. Marti is responsible for overseeing the all programs and operations of University Recreation including: facility rentals, adventure and leadership, sport clubs, intramurals, recreational equipment purchases/maintenance, fitness programming and the operations at Member Services. Marti is active in her professional organization, NIRSA, serving on the NIRSA Foundation Board of Directors. She is also the University of Richmond Institutional Representative to the Virginia Network. In her free time, she enjoys spending time outside, especially running or hanging out on the Rappahannock River with her family, including twin boys Knox and Logan.
