CITY ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGES RESULT FROM CONSULTANTS' SURVEY

The Council of the City of Dorval has taken another constructive step in providing Dorval citizens with efficient administration by unanimously approving the implementation of several administrative changes in accordance with a survey of the City's operations, prepared by Riddel, Stead, Graham & Hutchison, Municipal Consultants. Generally, the administrative resolutions include the preparation by the City Staff of job descriptions and evaluations of all salaried employees. This will provide clear-cut lines of responsibility and afford the City Manager an opportunity to devote more time to planning and those matters usually associated with managerial responsibilities as against the detailed work of day to day operations. Financial controls and reports will be expanded in certain areas to provide more accurate and necessary information, particularly regarding budget controls. Past procedures have in some instances been modified to avoid duplication and excessive time consumption. Accounting and service operation changes include, in particular, the hiring of a budget clerk and the improving of purchasing procedures. The provision of a system of labour cost control has been referred to the Public Works Commission for further study. Other resolutions include a review and up dating of the City's charter and administrative by-laws, increased office space for the staff, a study of the civic committee and commission system, to mention a few. This action was taken by Council to ensure that, over the long term, the administration will be geared to keep pace with the growth the City will undoubtedly undergo within the next few years and should in no way be construed to reflect criticism of Dorval's present administration.

ECONOMICS FEATURES Y PROGRAM

Adult program officials at the Lachine Dorval YMCA have announced that a study-discussion course in economics will be offered as part of the informal education program of the 'Y' this year. In making the announcement the YMCA reported that this ten weeks study program will be presented to adults in cooperation with the Henry George School of Social Science. The Henry George School of Social Science is a non-profit, non-political institution which specializes in courses on political economy. There are branches of the school throughout Canada, the United States and England. The local 'Y' is just concluding the first session of the basic course in economics. The new year study - discussion program will be offered at the 'Y' building, 3955 Provost Street, Lachine, on Tuesday evenings from 8.00 to 10.00 p.m. starting January 30th. This is primarily designed to fill the needs of the busy adult who has limited time but also has a desire to understand the world in which he lives. It will be of particular value to people who are home-owners as some of the discussions will deal with various phases of tax-

C. OF C. MEET TO DECIDE ON RE-ZONING STAND

A special meeting was held last night by the Dorval Chamber of Commerce at the Dorval Recreation Centre for the purpose of voting on a proposed resolution to ask Dorval City Council to reopen the balance of Dorval Ave., from zone 1 to zone 2. In effect, this would legalize the operation of the Tavern at 317 Dorval Ave., which has been censured by the City Council and closed by the Quebec Liquor Board.

Newspaper deadline makes it impossible to report the results of the meeting in this weeks paper, however, a full report will be given in the Jan 25 issue.

SAFETY COUNCIL ANNOUNCES BICYCLE TESTS DATE

The Dorval Safety Council at a meeting held last week laid plans for the fifth annual "Bicycle Tests" to be held on Saturday May 5th, 1962. Mr. Richard Hossnell, general Chairman of this year's program with Mr. R. Carriere Eastern Area Chairman, Mr. W. Chopp, Western Area Chairman, Mr. J. Collard, Northern Area Chairman, are laying the ground work for a slightly revised program, using areas rather than individual schools. As in other years, Community Associations, Home & School, Parent Teacher and other service clubs will be asked to participate. A meeting to be held later this month will acquaint all organizations with

DO IT NOW CAMPAIGN UNDERWAY

This winter more than ever before homeowners, industrial firms and commercial establishments have combined to make the "Do It Now" campaign a worthwhile undertaking. Many employers will testify that the winter campaign has paid off. Some had to apply quite unexpectedly to the National Employment Office in Lachine for additional help so that winter projects could be completed. A survey conducted by winter employment officials disclosed that construction on both large and small projects the general plans. In making the announcement the Chairman hopes the citizens will keep this date clear and support the "Bicycle Tests" for 1962.

is continuing throughout the winter in Dorval, despite the fact that it has been one of the coldest on record. Campaign results to date list a considerable number of small projects by homeowners. These include decoration, construction of kitchen cupboards and additional rooms and various renovation projects. "Homeowner campaign contribution is exceptionally high this year," the committee chairman said, "and has created full time work for employees of many city contractors." "Businessmen too," he continued, "have swung solidly behind the local campaign in having store renovations carried out at this time."

ation. Discussion on some of the basics of political science, labour, unemployment, housing and current events will also be included.

Each weekly meeting will consist of approximately two hours of stimulating round table discussion dealing with the many problems of our social economy. Mr. Raymond Parent, Director of Studies at the Henry George School will be group discussion leader.

The YMCA announced that for the first session of the study-discussion program all adults are invited to attend free of charge.

In addition to the above course the Lachine-Dorval YMCA also announced a number of other classes which form part of the informal education activities for the new year. These include ballroom dancing, cake decorating, sketching and painting, dressmaking, ladies day out and a golf clinic.

Persons wishing detailed information about the informal educational program of the Lachine-Dorval YMCA are asked to call ME 7-2511.

INTERESTING LADIES COURSE AT YMCA

The Women's Committee of the Lachine-Dorval YMCA has announced that four very interesting informal education courses will be starting up during the latter part of this month.

The Ladies Fun and Figure Club will get underway Tuesday, January 23rd. This group meets for two hours of pleasant exercises designed to keep ladies in good trim. Classes are held in the Meadowbrook School gym, Lachine, under qualified instruction every Tuesday night from 8.15 to 10.15 p.m. An adult YMCA membership is required for this program.

A very useful course in dressmaking will be starting on Tuesday, January 30th. Classes are held Tuesday afternoons from 1.30 to 3.30 p.m. Individual instruction is offered to both the beginner and to the woman who knows how to sew. Miss Dorothy Walsh, a graduate of the Fashion Arts Academy, is the instructor.

The Ladies Day out program held at Strathmore United Church in Dorval will also commence on January 30th. The ladies meet from 9.30 to 11.30 on Tuesday mornings for an hour of calisthenic exercises followed by coffee and a guest speaker. Mrs. Maie Mullaste is the calisthenic instructor for this ten week course.

Thursday, February 1st. is the first evening for the 'Y' Cake Decorating course. This 7 weeks course is being instructed by Mrs. Evelyn Smith

DON'T HIDE YOUR CAMERA AT NIGHT

Are you in an experimental mood?

Then try your hand at night photography this week.

Winter, with its long nights, provides good opportunities for evening as well as daytime photos. After dark, even the simplest subjects take on new qualities. Lighted windows give homes a feeling of warmth and life. Street lights cast long, interesting shadows. Snow-covered streets, cars and trees are transformed into subjects of real pictorial value.

If you like, you can even take your night-time photos without leaving the house. You can shoot from a window. But it usually pays to scout around outside. That way, you'll have a better chance of locating one or two outstanding possibilities.

For example, you'll be able to provide a centre of interest in the foreground, such as a motionless figure or a snow-covered car. And you can pick a tree trunk and an overhanging branch to provide a natural arch through which the subject can be seen.

When you've picked a subject—the campus of a nearby college, perhaps—you'll need a firm support. That could mean a fence, a bench, a car, a tripod, anything to hold the camera steady during a time exposure. This is a "must" because any camera movement will ruin the picture.

It's a good idea to shield the camera lens from the direct rays of street lamps or other light. Otherwise the lamp will register too strongly on the film. Place the camera so that the light comes from behind the camera or from the side, or keep a tree trunk or other object between the light and the camera.

Pedestrians will not register on the film, unless they pause. But car lights will appear as long, white streaks which you may find, depending on your tastes, either attractive or undesirable. If you wish to avoid headlights, shield the camera lens with your hand while a car is passing.

Remember that exposures vary widely with the amount of light and the subject. Snow reflects street lights. But you'll have to experiment. Try a variety of exposures for each subject—one of 30 seconds, another at one minute, and a third of two minutes. After shooting a test roll of film, you'll take your next batch of night pictures with more confidence.

Even your first night-time photos can be impressive. And the more you experiment, the more fun you'll have.

and Mrs. J. Breckenridge.

SPEAKER AT L.U.W.C.

"A Portrait of Canada" was the topic chosen by Hans Moller, guest speaker at the meeting of the Montreal Lakeshore University Women's Club, held on Monday evening, January 8th, in the hall of St. John Fisher Church, Valois. Mr. Moller is Executive Producer of film strip production at the National Film Board.

Mr. Moller described the valuable work being done by the National Film Board in portraying Canada to the Canadian people, and to the people of other lands. In the twenty years of its operation, the National Film Board has earned a reputation unique in the Western World for the realistic films it produces. It does not employ propaganda methods, but pictures Canada as an interesting country, populated by interesting groups of people. Last year Canadian films were seen by six hundred million people throughout the world, and were translated into approximately one hundred different languages.

This informative talk was illustrated by films showing some of the subjects available. The National Film Board produces three to four hundred films a year, covering a wide range of topics, historical, scientific, and international in background.

Mr. Moller showed several of his own productions of educational films, designed for the classroom. He stressed the importance of presenting Canadian subjects in a Canadian way, in order that our children may be exposed to the philosophy and standards of their native land.

that there are still a considerable number of carpenters, painters, plasterers, plumbers, electricians and other construction tradesmen registered for work. Also available are general labourers anxious to find work doing odd jobs, such as cleaning out basements, etc.

"The response to the campaign has been gratifying," the campaign chairman said, "and we are looking forward to continuing response from the entire community."

IN FOCUS

By K. M.

LOCAL ANTIQUE SHOP: A place with atmosphere is the old farm home which houses antiques and the cabinet making and interior decorating business of J. Franklyn Fairway on Cote De Liesse Road. A visit there last weekend provided a refreshing change of pace after searching during the holiday season for the very latest in gift ideas. At an antique shop the idea is to browse around shopping becomes a brush with history, old adventures and forgotten ways of life.

The shop was heated by two coal burning stoves, one of them a Franklyn style heater, the coals burning red and inviting its open iron-fireplace styled face. As far as I was concerned the visit was worth while just in the enjoyment of the fires. The building is an old farm home which was moved about 15 years ago to its present location on the South side of the highway at 6357 Cote de Liesse when the original site was expropriated for the new road. A few remaining trees mark the old location on the north side. I was told that a piece of land adjoining the new site was purchased for the owner of the house by the authorities at a cost of $300.00 - which same land might now easily be valued at $125,000.00.

In the setting of this sturdily built old home, a few luxurious touches, red brocade, tasseled drapes and pale satin blinds shut off a mediocre outside view and create an effective backdrop for the collection of antiques. Among the interesting items noted in the shop were mirrors mounted in old picture frames; several pieces of heavy, early French Canadian pine cupboards with double panelling; a five octave piano, one of the original six made by J. McCallum and Sons; a crystal chandelier from the old section of the Windsor Hotel; and some brass ware from the old Prince Edward Island Ferry. One interesting lamp in the collection was a "banquet lamp", a very tall oil lamp which lighted dining tables; this one was made from an unusual base of brass pewter and copper.

Mr. Fairway started with cabinet making as a hobby; now as a furniture maker and refinisher, he serves his customers by designing pieces of furniture to fit in with genuine old pieces, or by making reproductions from sketches or pictures. His associate, Mr. L.F. Romich, is a Member of the Interior Decorators Society of Quebec and former manager of the Interior Decorating Department of Ogilvie's. Their approach to the field of Antiques and Interiors is straight-forward. "If a piece is a registered antique, we will tell you; if it is not a registered antique we try to evaluate its age and origin as accurately as we can, and to price it honestly; and if you want a reproduction of a certain kind of furniture we tell you if we can make it."

CITY NEWS: Acting Chief P. Cariepe, Lieut. Detective J. MacDougall, and Detective P. Portelance represented the Dorval Police at the funeral of Detective Roger Robitoux, attended last Saturday by hundreds of policemen from all over the province... Congratulations to Nancy Holland who made the best showing among the Canadian contestants at the recent downhill races at the Grindelwald International ski competition.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES: Members of the Lakeshore Unitarian Church are embarking on a program of "Social Action" in the New Year. One of the first projects will be entertainment of African students at McGill; fifteen students will be picked up on Feb. 3, and taken to individual homes for supper. Later members and students will meet at the Church for a social evening. It is intended that friendship with these students will be continued in other social events. At a recent church service, Unitarians met a student from Kenya whom they are assisting financially at McGill... The Unitarian Church Forum has been resumed; at a discussion Jan. 30, on "The position of Women in Quebec". Theresa Casgrain will be the principal speaker... At the annual father and child night sponsored by the A.O.T.S. at Dorval United Church January 22, dinner will be served and entertainment will be provided by "Magic Tom" Auburn... MOTHERS' MARCH OF DIMES IN DORVAL

The Strathmore Women's Club is again organizing the Mother's March of Dimes Campaign in Dorval, under the Chairmanship of the President, Mrs. Richard Horsnell.

Other local citizens who have consented to lend their assistance to this worthy effort are His Worship, Mayor John Pratt, M. P. Honorary Chairman; Mrs. J.R. Ballantyne, Honorary Chairman of the Mothers' March; Mrs. Louis Hamel, Honorary Vice-Chairman of the Mothers' March; Mr. J. R. Anderson, Treasurer; Mrs. Jules Lapointe and Mrs. V. Godbeer, Co-Chairman. Alderman Gordon J. Glencross is General Chairman of the Quebec March of Dimes.

The Mothers' March of Dimes will take place Wednesday, January 31st, 1962, from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. when it is hoped that every home in the City of Dorval can be called on for a donation, large or small. This is quite an undertaking in a spread-out community such as ours and with new districts being built up every year it becomes increasingly difficult, especially in the apartment house areas. Anyone who wishes to assist by acting as a Captain or a Canvasser, is asked to contact Mrs. Horsnell at 631-3235; or Mrs. Godbeer at 631-1138.

While many still think that the distribution of Salk Vaccine is the sole work of the Canadian Foundation for Poliomyelitis and Rehabilitation, this is far from the truth. Besides their fight against Polio and their assistance in the rehabilitation of the victims of this crippling disease, as well as those suffering from birth defects, they have given considerable financial assistance to research in other crippling diseases. The objective of the Campaign this year is $200,000.

SKATING AT THE PARK

by a 6-1 score. The Defensive play of Wayne Deale in goal and Allan Hamer on defence is a treat to watch and on the offensive, Lance Dalton, Mike Nicholson and Dana George showed the rest of the league a clean pair of heels. We would mention that the other boys on the team sure have plenty of will to win and when these boys improve their skating, this team will go a long way.

Boys like John Parks, Larry Cohn and Stephen Matthews certainly give an all out effort and we would so do the others whom we have not mentioned.

On a sojourn to Chalet Coc-hand it is like old home week as one meets umpteen Windsor Gardens area parents, taking in the lovely skiing and keeping a watchful eye on their children.

While in the mood we take our hats off to Jim Moore who has done a wonderful job of organizing and follow up on the childrens ski school. On Saturday past, more than 100 children of this area were to be seen on the slopes with an instructor in charge of every 15 children. They are being instructed so well that novices with only 2 or 3 lessons are seen going up the rope tows and the T Bar and chair lifts and then "snow plowing" back down the Swiss Hill and Sugar Bush and Snake Trails.

WINDSOR GARDENS NEWS

With such a beautiful weekend behind us we would like to summarize some of our Recreation Assoc. sponsored activities.

Congratulations are in order for Ross Nicholson of Allard Ave., who has taken over the coaching of the Pee-wee Hockey team, and what a job he is doing! We have not seen young hockey players in some years with as much drive as Ross is exacting and each boy loves it; as a result of installing this will to win in the boys, their Pee-wee team has been undefeated so far this winter, furthermore, of four games played in January three of the games have been won by shutouts: 5-0; 7-0; and 8-0 and the other

ST. STEPHEN'S HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

by Laura Anne Baudru

Perhaps the most appropriate beginning of this column would be a little information on St. Stephens itself, since this is our first appearance in the Dorval Reporter. We are a small High School, consisting of approximately one hundred and ninety-five pupils, Dorval's only English-speaking co-educational secondary school. Due to our size and the lack of facilities, we have no organized school teams in any sport, but it is these very factors which promote the class teacher-student relationship. At St. Stephens everybody knows everybody, and this is why we all love it.

Now we go back to several activities near the end of last month. December 22nd was an eventful day in our school. It marked with relief the end of our four pre-Christmas examinations. Giving vent to exuberant feelings resulted in class parties in every room, helped along with records, cookies, and the usual trimmings. Later on, one person from each class collected the many boxes of Christmas presents, food, and in some cases, clothing that had been brought in by students, and was driven down to the home of the family his class had adopted for Christmas. This act of bringing aid to the destitute did us nearly as much good as it did the needy families. That afternoon we were treated to the movie of Shakespeare's "Henry V" at the Dorval Recreation Center. At night we had our Christmas dance, to which were asked the alumni and invited outsiders. There was a Twist contest, door prizes, and a wonderful time was had by all. Congratulations should go to the Decorating Committee for a wonderful job.

For most of this school year the St. Stephen's Bowling League has been showing its progress Monday nights on the lanes. We have had an enthusiastic turnout and hope the interest will continue. In subsequent columns, we will bring you information on the other activities of St. Stephen's High School.

LACHINE HIGH REPORTS

The student's Council plans to set up an Inter-Club Council in which all Clubs in the school can be represented. Also, there will be a calendar of events published every two weeks which will inform the students of the various activities going on in the school.

This past week has seen four of the Girls' Basketball teams defeat their opponents. The Senior A and B teams won over the Northmount teams by scores of 35 - 17 and 11 - 6. The Junior teams defeated Sir Winston Churchill High 29-3 and 8-4.

On Saturday, January 13th, grade eleven students from John Grant High School and Lachine High wrote the Scholastic Aptitude Tests at Lachine High. The second part of these exams, the Achievement Tests, will be written on Saturday, March 3rd., also at Lachine High.

In a Senior Hockey Game with St. Thomas High, Lachine was defeated by the score of 2-1.

There are many activities on in the school as the present time; the Ski Club sponsored a trip to Ayer's Cliff on Saturday the 13th. A movie "The Secret Ways" was shown on Wednesday, January 10th, in the Auditorium. As usual there was a large turnout, proceeds going to the Students' Council.

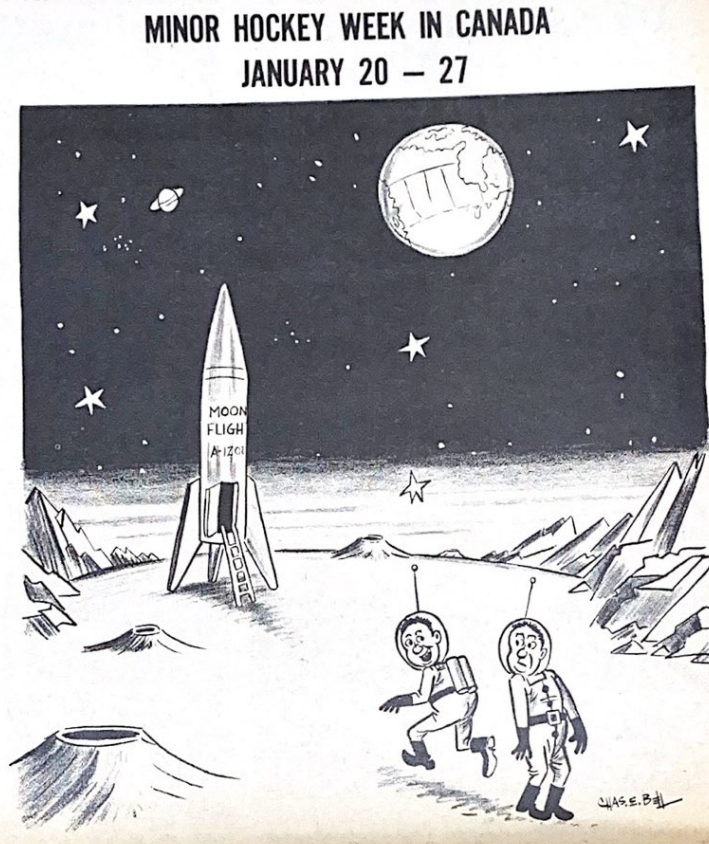

The annual Student-Teacher basketball game will be played in the near future. The price of admittance is 50 cents with the proceeds being divided between the Red Cross and the Students' Council.

The subject of Mr. Armour's talk will be "Houseplants" and will be accompanied by a practical demonstration of the care of such plants.

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING... A FASCINATING HOBBY

Winter's long nights provide an ideal opportunity to set up a darkroom and develop your own prints. Picture-taking is always fun, but picture-making completes the feeling of accomplishment. It's a real thrill to see your prints come to life on a piece of blank paper. You can develop your pictures just as soon as you expose a roll of film. And you can make as many extra prints as you wish.

You'll probably want to begin with contact, or "size as" prints. But you have flexibility. For example, you can choose a contact printing paper to fit the mood of a picture—a landscape, if you wish, on a soft "velvet" paper that adds richness to the scene. Then, too, you can select a favored section of a negative and mask off the rest—or convert part of a horizontal-shaped negative into a vertical print.

There are also important by-products. You'll find yourself keeping better track of your growing collection of negatives and prints, especially choice negatives earmarked for photo-greeting cards and gift enlargements. The equipment costs little. You can assemble it piece by piece, or take advantage of one of the many developing and printing kits now on the market. The kits include not only equipment, but chemicals and paper to get you off to a good start.

As for your darkroom, any kitchen, bathroom or laundry room can be used. It does not have to be elaborate, but it must be really dark. In fact, for developing film, try a closet. It's an ideal spot to load your film in developing tanks.

Actually, only a couple of steps must be carried out in total darkness. The rest of the process calls for subdued light.

You will need a sink and running water. The room should be well ventilated and held at about 65 to 70 degrees. Because dust will affect prints, cleanliness is important. To protect your clothes from chemicals, wear a lab coat or apron. Anybody can learn to develop and print pictures. Look over the necessary supplies at your favorite photography shop. With just a modest outlay, you'll be able to deliver good prints from your next roll of film.

Crooked Garments Rub Women's Grain

It seems that textile men just do not understand women's lingo. What the housewife calls "off-grain" is "bow and skewness" in mill man's language.

Women know that for good clothing construction, whether it be a man's shirt or a woman's best dress, the lengthwise yards of the fabric must be at right angles to the crosswise yards. If they are not, the fabric is off-grain and difficult to cut and sew, whether the garment is made commercially or in the home. Such garments have poor shape retention in wear and after drycleaning or laundering.

What can be done to correct the grain of a fabric? This question

FIRM DUPLICATES HOME-MADE BREAD

By duplicating the aroma and the taste of home-made bread "as mother used to make it", Christie's Bread Limited has touched off one of the greatest bread successes in the annals of modern baking.

The secret of this success story is a partially baked, twin or semi-detached loaf that required an additional fifteen to twenty minutes of baking in a pre-heated 400 degree oven.

It is this fifteen to twenty minutes of home baking that fills your house or apartment with the aroma of home-made bread. And like the proverbial pudding whose proof is in the eating, the new bread, Christie's Brown'N Serve Twin Loaf, has already proven itself in Ontario, where demand has far exceeded the highest expectations, according to J.T. Blain, Christie's General Sales Manager.

Alterations, suits and coats relined, remodeled. Double breasted reverted to single breasted (guaranteed). Specially, suits pants and coats made to measure.

has been asked over and over again by the thousands of women who attend talks on selection and care of fabrics by Dr. Dorothy Siegert Lyle, Director of Consumer Relations for the National Institute of Drycleaning, Silver Spring, Maryland.

Off-grain is a very common problem in textile finishing. In a finishing plant the fabric is handled in a rope-like form, winding its way through each of the many finishing processes at a speed of 300 yards a minute. There is a strain on the fabric as it is hauled, tagged, or yanked through vats, wringing devices, and guides. It is very easy for the fabric to get out of balance. Both problems—bow and skewness—occur as the fabric is handled in these high speed operations.

The term "bow" describes the problem when the crosswise yards curve toward the outer edges of the fabric (see Fig. 1). "Skewness" means that one selvage leads the other in passing through the machinery (see Fig. 2).

It is very difficult to detect or remedy these distortions at high speed. To correct this defect would require slower production and thus higher cost of the finished
