MASS READING RELFECTION

Sept 15, 2019

1st Reading Ex 32: 7-11, 13-14
[ The Plea of Moses]

This reading shows us that because of Moses’ intercession God agrees not to punish the sinful people. As mediator, Moses foreshadows Jesus Christ, who prayed on the cross for sinners: “Father, forgive them,” and who is still praying for us in heaven (Heb 7:25).

Because of Jesus’ pleading for us, God will not destroy the sinner. The condition is that we make the Responsorial Psalm our constant prayer to God.

2nd Reading 1 Tm 1:12-17
[ God’s Mercy]

Paul refers to himself as a former sinner (Acts 8:1-3). God forgave him because of Jesus’ meritorious death on the cross. Paul is grateful for God’s mercy, as all sinners should be.

OUR LADY OF GUADALUPE PARISH

Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross

St. Cajetan, Founder of the Theatine Order
St. Cajetan, founder of the holy order, whose members are called Theatines, was born in 1487, at Vicenza, in Lombardy, of noble and pious parents. Immediately after his baptism, his mother consecrated him to the Blessed Virgin, humbly begging her to guard him and take his spiritual welfare under her motherly protection. His entire life proved how effectual his mother's prayers had been. He was never, even in his most tender years, like other children; his greatest pleasure consisted in praying, building small altars, giving alms to the poor, and being most perfect in his obedience to his parents. His whole conduct was such, that even in childhood, he was called a saint.

Cajetan consecrated his order to the Cross, which he adopted as its emblem, and the foundation took place on the feast of the Finding of the Holy Cross, May 3, 1524. It was approved on June 24 of that year, by Pope Clement VII in the Brief Exponi Nobis. On September 14, feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, Cajetan and his companions made solemn profession before the papal altar of St. Peter's Basilica in Rome, in the presence of Mgr. Giovanni Battista Boning, Bishop of Caserta, a special papal delegate.
