

Terree Montgomery

Terree was born and raised in Knoxville, Tennessee. She received a bachelor's degree in business from the University of Tennessee. She has lived in Raleigh for 32 years. Terree currently works for Liberty Senior Living as part of the pre-development marketing team that will bring Hayes Barton Place, a new senior living community, to Raleigh. She has spent her entire career in business development and marketing. Her job responsibilities include all aspects of marketing as well as event planning and developing relationships in the community to bring awareness of Hayes Barton Place.

She is the mother of three grown children, two sons and a daughter. Project Enlightenment has had a special place in her heart since her daughter attended the Demonstration Preschool in 2006. She says, "this experience was life changing for her family". She is excited to have the opportunity to serve on the Project Enlightenment Foundation Board after having been the recipient of their outstanding services.

Over the years, Terree has volunteered with numerous non-profit organizations in the Raleigh area. Most recently serving on the Capital Campaign Steering Committee for Healing Transitions. She also has experience working with two public school foundations, is a trained Stephen Minister and is currently serving on the Board of Deacons at White Memorial Presbyterian Church. When she is not working or volunteering, she enjoys spending time with her three children, cooking, needlepoint, and taking long walks on the greenway.

Terree joined the Foundation Board on 9-1-2022.
