

Suggested Lodging Options

Because the conference dates overlap with Stanford homecoming, we are unable to secure a block reservation. As such, attendees are strongly advised to reserve rooms as soon as possible. For the most affordable options, we highly recommend booking through www.tripadvisor.com. You can reserve rooms at the same hotels listed below for $50-$70 less if you go through TripAdvisor. You can also book private stays near the conference through airbnb.com for between $80 and $200/night. The prices listed below are the higher prices you will pay if you call the hotels directly.

The following are approximately 25% less through TripAdvisor:

Creekside Inn: $200/night. Reservations can be made online at <http://www.creekside-inn.com/> or by calling (650) 493-2411

Best Western Plus Riviera: $230/night. Reservations can be made online at <http://www.bestwesternmenlopark.com> or by calling (650) 321-8772

Hotel Lucent: $200/night. Reservations can be made online at <http://hotellucent.com/> or by calling (650) 521-0024

Hotel Parmani: $170/night. Reservations can be made online at <http://www.hotelparmani.com/> or by calling (650) 493-9085

The Cardinal Hotel: only offering their Shared Bath Style Room @ $155 per night. Reservations can be made online at <http://www.cardinalhotel.com/> or by calling (650) 323-5101

Travelodge Palo Alto $100 per night. Reservations can be made online at <http://www.travelodgepalalto.com/>

Stanford Terrace Inn: $380/night. Reservations can be made online at <http://stanfordterraceinn.com> or by calling (650) 857-0333

Hotel Keen: $290/night. Reservations can be made online at <http://www.hotelkeen.com/> or by calling (650) 327-2775

Lodging Options

Airbnb.com

This is the most affordable option. You can often find places for as little as $80/night and closer to campus. If using Airbnb, we recommend only booking with individuals who have averages of 4-5 star reviews.

