2020 Offense/Defense Analysis

No school has transitioned from the FCS to the FBS as well as Appalachian St as the Mountaineers are currently on a 60-12 SU run dating back to 2014 and they've won all 5 of their bowl games. Last year the Mountaineers were an upset loss to Georgia Southern away from playing in a major bowl game. They also became the first FBS team from the state of North Carolina to win 12 games in a season as they notched 13 wins.

This year Appalachian St has their third head coach in three seasons in Shawn Clark who played here and also coached OL here. They bring back long-time assistant coach Dale Jones to coordinate the defense so this staff should be way ahead of other first-year staffs. App St also got in 11 spring practices prior to the COVID-19 shutdown. The offense returns QB Zac Thomas who has thrown 49 TD passes the last two seasons (just 12 INT's) and has added 17 rushing TD's. The Mountaineers do lose RB Darrynton Evans who ran for 1,480 yards and 18 TD's and was a 3rd round draft choice. However, they bring back their top four receivers and three All-Sun Belt OL. The defense loses their top 4 tacklers including Sun Belt player of the year Akeem Davis-Gaither but bring back 1st-team All-Sun Belt DE Demetrius Taylor (7 sacks) and CB Shaun Jolly (5 INT's).

Outside of a trip to Wisconsin, we have the Mountaineers projected to be a favored in 11 games this season. A home game vs UL-Lafayette will likely decide the Sun Belt regular season title and keep in mind, the Mountaineers have won eight straight in that series.

2020 Offense/Defense Analysis

Head coach Billy Napier is one of the best young coaches in CFB and when you consider he was an assistant under both Nick Saban and Dabo Swinney, we're not sure he will be in Lafayette long. Last year, the Ragin' Cajuns under Napier set several school records including most wins (11), scoring offense (37.9), total offense (494.1) and yards per play (7.0). We've never had ULL power-rated higher and the only negative was a pair of losses to an historically great (by Sun Belt standards) Appalachian St team.

This year's team should also contend for the Sun Belt championship thanks to the return of 14 starters. QB Levi Lewis (26-to-4 TD-to-INT ratio) returns along with senior RB's Elijah Mitchell and Trey Ragas. They have a combined 5,195 career rushing yards and 61 rushing TD's, which is more than any duo in the country entering 2020. The Cajuns do lose their top receiver in Ja'Marcus Bradley (10 TD's). Last year's defense was one of the most improved units in the country as they only allowed 19.7 ppg, a far cry from the 34.2 ppg they allowed in 2018. Seven starters return led by LB Joe Dillon who had eight sacks last season and DT Zi'Yon Hill.

The schedule is not overly difficult as we currently project the Cajuns to be favored in 10 games in 2020 and all 10 of those are by a TD or more. Whether they can make a run at the Group of 5 major bowl bid will likely come down to a road trip to Appalachian St which has beat Louisiana eight straight times.

2020 Offense/Defense Analysis

After a disastrous 2017 season where Georgia Southern lost a school-record 10 games, the Eagles have gotten back to its option roots on offense and have had back-to-back successful seasons under head coach Chad Lunsford. Despite going from 10-3 in 2018 to 7-6 last season, there wasn't much of a drop-off in Georgia Southern's power rating. Why? Well, Georgia Southern went from +22 in TO's in 2018 to "just" +8 last year and went from 3-0 in games decided by 7 points or less to 3-3.

This year's team should be just as good as the past couple of years thanks to several returning key players. QB Shai Werts returns for his 4th-year as the starting QB. Werts has an incredible 19-to-1 TD-to-INT ratio the last two years and has 2,227 career rushing yards and 21 TD's. Georgia Southern also returns their top two RB's in J.D. King and Wesley Kennedy who combined to run for 1,628 yards and 19 TD's last season. While the defense only returns six starters, the Eagles return their top four tacklers. The LB position is certainly a strength as Reynard Ellis, Rashad Byrd and Randy Wade all return after combining for 235 tackles and 31.5 total TFL's last season. Georgia Southern do lose three starters in a secondary that struggled last season.

The schedule features three tough road games at Boise St, UL-Lafayette and Ole Miss but we currently project the Eagles to be favored in seven games and we expect them to be playing in their 3rd straight bowl games under Lunsford.

2020 Offense/Defense Analysis

Head coach Chip Lindsey had some big shoes to fill last season inheriting a program under former head coach Neal Brown that went 31-8 the previous three seasons with wins over LSU and Nebraska. Lindsey did not pass the first test as Troy slipped to 5-7 last season and suffered three outright upset losses. The season also ended with a pair of blowout losses to the Sun Belt's best teams (Appalachian St and UL-Lafayette).

This year's team welcomes back many of their top performers but they must replace QB Kaleb Barker who threw for 3,628 yards (led Sun Belt) and a school-record 30 TD's a year ago. Last year's backup QB Gunnar Weston only had 22 attempts and keep an eye on incoming JUCO Parker McNeil. The good news is that leading rusher DK Billingsley (901 yards and 10 TD's) returns (so does 2018 leading rusher BJ Smith) along with Troy's top four receivers who combined for 2,532 yards and 19 TD's. The defense took a major step back last season but this year they return their top six tacklers from last season led by 1st-team All-SBC LB Carlton Martial who notched 126 tackles, 18.5 total TFL's and three interceptions last season. NT Will Cholah is also back (7.5 total TFL's) after earning 1st-team All-SBC honors.

Good news for Troy is that they play one of the easiest schedules in the country. They get a couple of "lay-ups" to start the season. Road trips to Arkansas St, Georgia Southern, Tennessee and Appalachian St late in the season could halt momentum but we think Troy should clinch bowl eligibility prior to that.

2020 Offense/Defense Analysis

Arkansas St has become one of the more consistent Group of 5 programs in the country. The Red Wolves now have nine consecutive winning seasons. Arkansas St is 43-10 straight up at home in those nine seasons and have a 56-15 SU and 45-24-2 ATS (65%) record in Sun Belt play. Last year they had to deal with off-field distractions for head coach Blake Anderson (his wife passed away), and on the field, they suffered a season-ending injury to their starting QB Logan Bonner. Still, the Red Wolves still managed eight wins.

This year's team welcomes back 14 starters. The QB position is in great hands whether it's Bonner or Layne Hatcher behind center as the two combined to throw for 3,998 yards and 37 TD's last season. They will have a lot of production to replace at WR as Omar Bayless (1,653 yards and 17 TD's) and Kirk Merritt (806 yards and 12 TD's) depart. The Red Wolves, hopefully will find more balance offensively in 2020 as they were No. 10 in passing ypg, but only No. 112 in rushing ypg. They return their top two rushers and all five starters on the offensive line. The defense does lose their top four tacklers from last season and 1st-team All-SBC DE William Bradley-King who notched 8.5 sacks and 13.5 TFL's last year transferred to Baylor in April.

The schedule features a pair of tough non-conference road games vs Memphis and Michigan. In Sun Belt play, Arkansas St figures to be large underdogs at Appalachian St and at UL-Lafayette, but could be favored in the other six. This looks like another bowl season for the Red Wolves.

2020 Offense/Defense Analysis

Coastal Carolina has only been playing football since 2003 and was a successful FCS program prior to making the jump to the FBS in 2017. The Chanticleers were 51-15 straight up their last 5 years in the FCS, but have had 3 straight losing seasons at this level. They have been close each of the last two years in reaching bowl eligibility, but have come up one game short each time.

Technically, Jamey Chadwell enters his 2nd year here as head coach, but he was also the interim in 2017. This year's team looks like their best yet at the FBS level with 14 returning starters. Both QB's return in Fred Payton and Bryce Carpenter. Keep an eye out on RB CJ Marable, who should be among the best in the Sun Belt after rushing for 1,085 yards and 11 TD's while also catching 38 passes. Overall, the Chanticleers are No. 5 in the country in Bill Connelly's returning production on offense.

On defense, Coastal has to improve their pass defense as they allowed a nation-worst 69.8% completion percentage in 2019. The good news is they have one of the better pass rushers in the Sun Belt in DE Tarron Jackson who had 10 sacks a year ago. They also return their leading tackler Teddy Gallagher.

There's one likely win and four likely losses on the schedule. It will come down to how Coastal performs in close games as they are just 6-10 in games decided by 7 points or less at the FBS level. Please note that Coastal Carolina did get in all 15 of their spring practices prior to the COVID-19 shutdown.

2020 Offense/Defense Analysis

For a program that just started playing football in 2010, Georgia St has a lot going for it. They play in a major city (Atlanta) that is located in a recruiting hot-bed. The Panthers also play in a new renovated stadium (formerly Turner Field, home of the Atlanta Braves) and have managed to go to 3 bowl games already. Last year, they were on pace to have their best team ever as they pulled a major upset over Tennessee in the opener and were 6-2. However, an injury to QB Dan Ellington (tore his ACL vs ULM but played next 4 games) severely limited their offense as they averaged just 20.5 ppg and 167 rush ypg in their final 4 games after averaging 36 ppg and 275 rush ypg in their first 9.

This year the Panthers must replace Ellington (3,115 total yards) and leading rusher Tra Bennett (1,453 yards and 12 TD's). They do return their top 3 receivers as well as 4 starters on the offensive line. The defense was the issue for most of last season as the Panthers were bottom 10 nationally in yards per play, yards per game and points per game allowed. The good news is the defense returns 8 starters including leading tackler Trajan Stephens-McQueen (110 tackles).

The schedule will see the Georgia St favored in maybe 4 games this season with the opener vs Murray St being the only game where the Panthers are a big favorite. Ultimately, if Georgia St gets to bowl eligibility for the 4th time in 6 years, it will depend on 6 toss-up games. However, until the Panthers find a QB, we think 5 wins is more likely than 6.

2020 Offense/Defense Analysis

Despite it's location, ULM is one of the tougher jobs in CFB as the Warhawks have only made one bowl game since joining the FBS in 1994. Matt Viator has done a solid job here getting ULM to bowl eligibility in 2018 and last year we thought ULM was underrated. The Warhawks had a couple of misleading losses (see right) while they also missed two extra-points that cost them games vs Florida State and UL-Lafayette.

Viator will have his work cut out for him in 2020 as QB Caleb Evans departs as the No. 2 all-time leading passer in ULM history with 9,513 yards and 58 TD passes while also adding 2,168 career rush yards and 36 more TD's. No matter who starts at QB, they will have a couple of nice weapons in 2nd-team All-SBC RB Josh Johnson (1,298 rush yards) and 1st-Team All-SBC TE Josh Pederson (NFL head coach Doug Pederson's son).

The defense has been the issue for ULM the last couple of seasons and last year was no different as ULM was No. 123 in yards per play, No. 128 in yards per game and No. 127 in scoring allowed. Eight starters return and keep an eye out on 1st-team All-SBC CB Corey Straughter who returns after notching 5 interceptions a year ago.

After a couple of winnable games to start off the season, the schedule is tough for ULM including a stretch in October-November where they play 6 road games in a 7-week period! Right now, it looks like another non-bowl season.

2020 Offense/Defense Analysis

Just 4 years ago, South Alabama beat both Mississippi St and San Diego St in the same season en route to their 2nd bowl game in 3 years. However, inconsistency plagued former head coach Joey Jones in his last couple of seasons and it's been a tough go for Steve Campbell in his first couple of years here managing just a 5-19 record. However, last year's team started to make some strides and the Jags managed a big upset win over Arkansas St in the regular season finale as 10.5-point underdogs.

There's a strong nucleus coming back especially on offense. It starts with QB Desmond Trotter who took over the last 4 games of the season and was much more effective than Cephus Johnson (151.8 vs 100.1 QB rating). The Jags do lose a 1,000-yard rusher in Tra Minter but WR's Kawaan Baker and Jalen Tolbert combined to average 17.7 yards per catch and 9 TD's.

The defense brings back 5 of their top 6 tacklers but loses some of their biggest play-makers including DE's Jeffrey Whatley and Rocel McWilliams who combined for 9 sacks and 13.5 TFL's. They also lose CB Travis Reed (3 INT's) who was a stand-out on tape.

The schedule might see South Alabama favored in only two games this season but there are 3 or 4 more winnable games on the schedule and this is Campbell's best team yet. Note that South Alabama is also moving into a brand new on-campus 25,000 seat stadium price tagged at $73 million!

2020 Offense/Defense Analysis

You would think a Texas school with an enrollment of 38,644 (Top 50 nationally regardless of division) that is less than an hour away from both Austin and San Antonio wouldn't have a problem getting enough talent to field a competitive football program. However, that hasn't been the case for Texas St who has really struggled at the FBS level. The Bobcats are just 13-47 SU the last 5 years and have been atrocious on the road (see ATS stat box below). However, they did show some signs of life in year 1 under head coach Jake Spavital.

The good news for 2020 is that a majority of their offense returns including QB Tyler Vitt who will battle Memphis transfer Brady McBride. The Bobcats also bring back their leading rusher and a pair of talented WR's in Javen Banks and Travis Graham who combined for 8 TD's while averaging 15 yards per catch.

The bad news is that Texas St loses a majority of their production on defense including the school's all-time leading tackler in Bryan London (459 career tackles). London also holds the Sun Belt conference career record for tackles. The Bobcats also lose multiple-year starters in Frankie Griffin (258 career tackles) and Nikolas Daniels (254 career tackles). That's 971 career tackles lost!

The schedule is not overly difficult and this is the first time at the FBS level that Texas St will have 7 home games. Still, with so much inexperience on defense we don't see the Bobcats coming close to bowl eligibility.
