Community Programming presents:

Ready, Set, Go!
Using Unstructured Time:
How to Support Learning in Young Children without Pushing

Courtney D. Arseneault, M.S.

Tuesday, February 23, 2016

7:00 PM - 8:30 PM

Ashland Public Library

Lower Level

This presentation is appropriate for parents or guardians of children in Pre-K to Grade 4

Are you pushing your child and expecting too much?

How do young children learn?

Is play important?

This workshop will examine realistic expectations for young learners and how to challenge children without pushing. Families will explore the importance of providing opportunities for both unstructured and structured activities and the skills these activities help promote in young children so they can successfully navigate through their world both in and out of school.

This seminar is presented by Courtney D. Arseneault, M.S. Courtney currently runs Adventures in Learning in Ashland, MA. and has been an early childhood educator for over twenty years. She has lived in Ashland since 1998 and is the mother of two children (11 and 13) who attend local schools. Over the years, Courtney has presented numerous workshops for families and has worked closely with participants to offer meaningful information and effective parenting tools that recognize both the joys and challenges of raising children.

This program is hosted by the Decisions at Every Turn Coalition and The Friends of the Ashland Public Library 2015-16 program series. Programs are free and open to the public. For more information about this program, please email president@friendsoftheapl.com.
