

Defense of Employment Lawsuits

We represent employers before administrative agencies as well as federal and state courts and arbitral forums. We provide representation during all stages of an employment dispute, from providing employers with assistance in drafting and submitting position statements to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to representing them in court for various actions including employee discrimination and wrongful discharge suits, unemployment appeals, breach of contract, commercial collections, non-payment for goods or services, defective or non-conforming goods, unfair competition, trade libel, fraudulent business practices, wrongful interference with business relationships, franchisor/Franchisee disputes, mechanics lien foreclosure, credit card chargeback claims, corporate dissolution, breach of fiduciary duty, shareholder actions, employment contracts, non-compete agreements and construction contracts.

Our timely, efficient and aggressive approach to handling employment-related litigation for our clients is evident in all phases of representation.

“This is an advertisement.”