

Uniform Creases and Ironing

When the dress uniforms are pressed, make sure the uniform is INSIDE OUT so that the creases are inverted when you put it on.

The jumper and trousers are NEVER creased from the outside. ALWAYS turn the jumper and trousers wrong-side out as shown below.

When ironing dress whites use a damp cloth between the hot iron and the fabric as the synthetic fabric will melt or discolor if the iron is too hot. The damp cloth also helps set a sharp crease.

When ironing is completed and you turn the uniform right-side out you will see that all creases EXCEPT the front middle crease and the three creases of the collar flap are turned inward, not outward.

Fold the jumper in the middle and iron down the back all the way up to the top of the collar flap.

Note the creases turn in along the sleeves and trouser legs

Blues and whites are ironed the same way they are turned in-side-out and ironed. When thurned right-side-out, the creases turn in-ward as seen here.

Trousers are folded (wrong side out) and laid out flat with creases along the seams (not front and back, but side to side). When turned right side out, the creases will be along the sides of the trouser legs and creases going inward, not outward like regular trousers.
