Fall 2018

Where has the time gone? March and Night of Artists doesn't seem that far past and here we are in September already. Although I haven't been working full-time in my new studio set-up at home, I have been keeping busy trying some new things. I continue to challenge myself to work looser and more directly (alla prima) and am pleased with the way the paint is flowing off my brush. I've done a few full-size paintings but am mostly doing studies on smaller pieces of canvas. I've posted some of them on my Facebook page Carol Johnson Art. Following is a recap of the past several months...

Night of Artists: Once again, this year's NOA event was an exhilarating weekend of art. Thank you to everyone who was able to drop by my booth for a chat and to appreciate my work. Over the course of the weekend I met many new people, and reconnected with patrons, friends and fellow NOA artists.

Many thanks to Memory Roth Photography for this action shot of me in my booth.

NOA Booth 8"x8" Commission Draw:

Congratulations to Helen R. whose name was drawn. Rather than commission a new painting, Helen chose a piece she saw in my booth - Remnant 2017 (8"x8"). For those who visited my booth and entered the draw, thank you for taking the time to express interest in following my work.

FIFTY EIGHT ONLINE ART AUCTION
hosted by NOA Artists

Earlier this year Phil Alain's wife, Amy, was diagnosed with lung cancer. Phil's NOA family has banded together to raise money for the family so Phil and Amy can concentrate on her treatments and getting well again. All the pieces will be part of the fundraiser on September 14th, 2018 at Artelier Studios, Edmonton. Proceeds from the door and the art auction will go to support Amy and the family, anything left over will be donated to the Canadian Lung Cancer charity.

For event information, auction details and to view the Facebook album of artwork for auction, click on "Cat's Eye Nebula" the piece I've donated for the fundraiser.

Please note this event is being organized by NOA friends and alumni and not Phil Alain, if you have any questions please contact Karen Bishop: karenbishopartist@gmail.com.
